No Quick Break Seen in Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonably cold weather and gusty, raw winds held a vise-like grip over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation today.

There appeared little prospect of an immediate, general break in the bone-chilling weather. Record low temperatures were reported in most of the ice belt for the second straight day — 10 days in advance of the official start of the winter season.

In the snow-covered sections of the Northeast, pounded by storms for nearly a week, more heavy snow fell. Weary highway crews struggled to keep the main arteries open. Snow depths measured eight feet in parts of northeastern Ohio.

The main core of the Arctic air centered in the North Central region. Brisk winds powered the sub-zero cold southward to the Gulf Coast and eastward to the Appalachians.

Temperatures far below zero were reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin, ranging to as low as 18 below in Huron, S. D.

Below-zero marks were general in the Midwest.

The South shivered in the season's coldest weather. It was near zero in sections of North Carolina, Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee, and in mountain areas of northern Georgia and Alabama.

Florida reeled from the abnormally low temperatures for the second consecutive day. The bitter cold threatened winter vegetables. Damage to crops varied but some estimates are in the millions of dollars. No serious damage was reported immediately to citrus crops.

The beaches in southern Florida were bare and the tourists were clothed in newly bought sweaters and coats. Miami's 38 above Tuesday was a record low for Dec. 11. It was 48 this morning.

New low temperatures for the date were set Tuesday in many sections of the icy belt. The mercury continued its downward plunge during the night and early morning, threatening record lows for today.

Nehru Says India Will Not Guarantee China's Cease-Fire

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India has given no guarantee it will continue to observe the cease-fire the Chinese Communists proclaimed in the Himalayas. Nehru told Parliament.

"We have given no guarantee on the future of the cease-fire," he told Parliament.

"It depends upon the circumstances. But for the time being India is accepting it."

Nehru said India does not wish to impede the cease-fire and welcomes reports of Chinese withdrawal on the northeastern frontier. The Chinese are insisting on holding their present positions in Ladakh, at the northwestern end of the border, where they occupied more than 2,000 square miles in their invasion.

Whatever the outcome of the cease-fire and the Chinese withdrawal, Nehru said, India will have to continue to strengthen its defense forces.

Zero Temperatures Holding Firm Grip Throughout Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hundreds of thousands of north-east Ohio residents shivered today in the grip of a cold snap while battling snow that drifted as high as six feet in some areas.

Sub-zero temperatures were common throughout the Buckeye state. Lows ranged from 9 below at Toledo in the northwest corner of the state to 1 below at Cleveland and Columbus and Zanesville. Cleveland's temperatures snapped a 45-year record for the date.

Busy Cleveland Hopkins Airport closed down operations at 4 a.m. when visibility dropped and two runways became snow-clogged.

More than 7 inches of new snow fell at the airport in the past 24 hours, including 2-3 inches during the night. There was 1½ feet on the ground and the snow continued falling in snow squalls.

The Conneaut area, 14 miles east of Ashtabula, ground to a standstill late Tuesday under two feet of new snow that fell at the rate of two inches an hour. This brought the total snowfall there to 30 inches, with more on the way.

Because all roads leading into the area in which some 16,000 live were clogged late Tuesday by snowdrifts, Conneaut Mayor Stanley Robertson declared a state of emergency.

Then by the approval of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, the mayor ordered 15 Ohio National Guardsmen to remain on duty throughout the night.

Using tanks, heavy-duty trucks and jeeps, the Guardsmen plowed through the snow banks and delivered food, milk and fuel to snow-bound residents.

The heavy equipment also was used to shuttle nurses, doctors and others from their homes to Brown Memorial Hospital on the west side of Conneaut.

Three men died of heart attacks while shoveling snow, raising to 26 the number of storm-related deaths in Ohio since the heavy snowfalls started last week.

Other parts of Ashtabula County also were hard hit and buried under snow that ranged from 24 inches in Jefferson to 43 inches in Ashtabula. Kingsville reported 36 inches on the ground and it was still piling up.

To help frustrated road crews in Ashtabula County, Youngstown sent two graders and a bulldozer late Tuesday night.

The snow that fell along a 100-mile area from Lorain east to the Pennsylvania border preceded a cold wave that moved across the Canadian border. It was expected to drop temperatures to zero and below by dawn throughout the state.

The band of heavy snow squalls that swirled off the 43-degree Lake Erie waters and hammered at several counties along the lake shore was supposed to diminish to snow flurries today. Overnight accumulations up to eight inches were forecast.

Temperatures today should rise to a more bearable 10 degrees, the Weather Bureau said. Winds of 10 to 15 miles an hour were predicted.

At 11 o'clock Tuesday night, the mercury continued skidding downward. Findlay had recorded three below zero by then. Other temperature readings all above zero, were Cincinnati 1; Dayton, Toledo, Columbus and Akron 2; Zanesville and Bellaire 3; Chesapeake and Youngstown 6; Marietta 7, and Cleveland 8.

Northern Ashtabula County was hit hardest by the heavy squalls that rode in on wind gusts up to 30 miles an hour. The two feet of new snow they left Monday night pushed the total on the ground up to more than 3½ feet.

Mercury Drops To Five Below

Cold To Continue; 0-8 Below Expected

The season's first blast of winter went into its seventh day today with local temperature readings of five degrees below zero in the city. Outlying sections of the county reported temperatures as low as eight below the "nothing" mark.

Severe cold was included in the forecast issued at noon today by the Weather Bureau. Snow flurries were to end this afternoon. Fair tonight with a low of zero to eight below. Generally after tomorrow with a high of 10-18.

Several residential water line freeze-ups were reported to the Circleville Water Department today as a result of early morning sub-zero temperatures.

Doug Cotterman, manager of the local Ohio Fuel Gas Company office, said today that no gas pressure problems had been reported in this area. Cotterman said that necessary pressure increases were made in advance to take care of the "overload" during extremely cold periods.

Fire Chief Palmer Wise today repeated his warning to local residents that overheated stoves and furnaces should be inspected periodically.

Nearly every year, a faulty chimney or flue is the cause of home fires in this area, the fire chief said.

DiSalle Names Rep. Cook to Portage Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today the appointment of Rep. Robert E. Cook, 11th Congressional District Democrat, as common pleas judge of Portage County, effective Dec. 16.

Cook succeeds Judge James G. France, previously named by DiSalle to the 7th District Court of Appeals. France filled an appellate court vacancy resulting from the elevation of Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Cook, elected to Congress in 1958 and re-elected in 1960, was defeated last Nov. 6. He formerly served six years as Portage County prosecutor.

DiSalle also announced the appointment of Robert W. Blake, more of Silver Lake, Summit County, as a trustee of Kent State University to serve out the term of the late Otto J. Korb.

Blakemore served as Akron police prosecutor in 1957. A graduate of Kent State, he was graduated by Akron Law School and is a past president of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Summit County.

The governor named Thomas W. Steinemann of Sandusky as a trustee of the Soldiers and Sailors Home there, to replace Dr. Peter A. Volpe whose term expired. Steinemann operates an insurance agency in Sandusky.

Appointed to the state Board of Cosmetology was Elizabeth Carmichael of Canton. She replaced Evelyn Johnson, resigned. The term ends Oct. 31, 1963. Mrs. Carmichael, a cosmetologist for 26 years, is a member and past officer of the Ohio Federation of Colored Women's Club.

Brunei Revolt Reported in Final Stages

LABUAN, Brunei (AP)—The North Borneo uprising appeared to be near collapse today as British troops mounted coordinated attacks on centers of rebel strength.

The British announced the capture of a holdout center in the oil town of Seria, and claimed three other rebel-held towns were taken.

In taking the town's jail, a pocket of resistance in Seria, the British freed 45 men who had been held hostage there for four days.

It was reported one American—his name was given as Harold Elghime of Wenatche, Wash.—was wounded. He had been used as a human shield by a group of rebels when they attempted to take Penaga police barracks near by on Saturday and had been held hostage since.

The British command said Lawas and Limbang in the adjoining colony of Sarawak also were recaptured. Reports from Sarawak said the fight for Limbang was continuing with the rebels still in control of about half of the town.

The British also announced the regaining of Kuala Belait, another oil center south of Seria.

"The revolt is collapsing," said Gen. Sir Nigel Poett, commander of British land forces in the Far East, who flew here for a look at his Gurkha and Highland operations. "We are confident that order will soon be maintained."

Rough Sailing Predicted for JFK Tax Cut

Byrd Says Spending Reduction Also Must Accompany Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., predicted today Congress will turn down President Kennedy's proposed 1963 tax cut unless it is accompanied by a promised reduction in spending.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview he is opposed to "tax reductions out of borrowed money"—an objective he said the administration has spelled out by contending that spending cannot be reduced at this time.

In this connection, the Virginia senator predicted the federal deficit will run nearer $10 billion in the current fiscal year than the administration's most recent $7.8-billion estimate.

"If Congress could be assured of a clear cut reduction in expenditures, I believe it would vote a clear cut reduction in taxes," Byrd said. "But I don't believe Congress is going to be so irresponsible as to reduce taxes in the face of a tremendous deficit."

Byrd said he supports the position of Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee that there is no economic justification at this time for reducing taxes effective Jan. 1, 1963, as Kennedy has suggested.

Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., a member of Byrd's committee, said Tuesday there should be no tax cuts unless there are accompanying savings in expenditures. This was the position taken by members of the Republican National Committee at a meeting here last week.

Byrd expects to expand on his opposition to immediate tax reductions in a speech Thursday night to the National Industrial Conference Board in New York. Kennedy will speak before the Economic Club of New York Friday night.

Strike Settlement Hope Grows Blacker

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes for a speedy end to the printers strike that has blacked out all nine of this city's major dailies seemed blacker than ever today.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz called it "an extremely serious situation" that could keep the papers out for weeks. He left Tuesday night for a speaking engagement in Atlanta, Ga., after a day here trying to break the deadlock.

Wirtz left behind the nation's top negotiator—Director William E. Simkin of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service—to sit in at a joint bargaining session today between representatives of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union Local 6 and the Publishers Association of New York.

But, asked if either side had changed its position on wages and fringe benefits since the strike began early last Saturday, Simkin replied:

"Not fundamentally." The ITU's 3,000 printers on the nine dailies seek an $18.45 weekly wage increase over two years to bring base pay to $159.45 plus a shorter work week and other fringe benefits.

The publishers have offered the $8 increase over two years accepted by the Guild after the News strike, plus fringe benefits they estimated to be worth an additional $1.20 a week.

The printers struck four of the dailies Saturday, but the others closed down voluntarily. Idled were nearly 20,000 employees of the Times, Herald Tribune, Daily News, Mirror, Post, Journal-American, World-Telegram & Sun, Long Island Press and Long Island Star-Journal.

First Negro Accepted by Cosmos Club

WASHINGTON (AP)—The elite Cosmos Club, whose rejection of a Negro for membership a year ago set off a stir that reached to the White House, has accepted its first Negro member.

John Hope Franklin, chairman of the Department of History at Brooklyn College, N.Y., was elected by the club's admissions committee Monday night.

Last January, the club's admissions committee turned down the application of Carl Rowan, a Negro, who is a deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

It brought an outcry of discrimination and several government officials resigned, including John Kenneth Galbraith, ambassador to India, who had proposed President Kennedy for membership.

"Being a member or not a member is a matter of conscience," Galbraith announced then. "And mine was best served by resigning."

And Kennedy passed the word that he did not want to join.

Voters Brave Snow

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Voters in the Ridgedale Consolidated School District braved snow and near-zero temperatures Tuesday as they returned to the polls and approved a levy they rejected in the Nov. 6 balloting.

The three-year five-mill levy passed 528-302. This compared to the 650-636 defeat of a proposed three-mill levy last Nov. 6. Absent from Tuesday's balloting was a proposed $300,000 bond issue which earlier was defeated 752-5-8.

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Bernard Phelan, 56, died of suffocation early today in a fire that destroyed a two-story frame house in Versailles in eastern Darke County.

Columbus Emergency Lifted, Water Main Break Is Found

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Ralston Westlake lifted a state of emergency today after workmen located a break in a city water line that forced the closing of stores, schools, and offices.

Workmen found the break in a main line just outside the Scioto River pumping station. They began rerouting water around the four-foot main and most of the city was expected to have water again by noon.

The lack of water came during the coldest night of the season in Columbus. The city's low reading in the early morning hours was one below zero.

Mayor Westlake declared the state of emergency after numerous offices, including most of those at the Statehouse, announced they would shut down for the day. Also closed were all public and parochial schools, and downtown stores. Affected besides the downtown area were parts of the north, northwest, and south sides of the city.

There were no blocks against traffic and while stores were not yet open, many people reported for work before they knew of the emergency.

In addition to the main line break, which occurred about 3:15 a.m., a similar rupture occurred in the water system at the Ohio Penitentiary. The prison supplies steam heat to the Statehouse, state office building, and the Wyandotte Building which also houses some state offices. Officials said that break also was expected to be by-passed by late morning.

Warden Ernie Maxwell said the break in an eight-inch main meant the prison could supply only limited heat to the three buildings most of the day, he said heat was being maintained at the penitentiary but below normal in many buildings.

Leader Affirms His Support of Castro Regime

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev declared today that if American pledges on Cuba are not fulfilled "we will be compelled to take such actions as the situation requires of us."

He was speaking to the Supreme Soviet.

The statement was made at the end of an hour of speaking in the great Kremlin hall during which the premier said the Soviet Union had demonstrated it could preserve peace.

"We will never leave revolutionary Cuba in trouble," Khrushchev said.

"We will defend the right of the Cuban people to pursue their bright future."

He paid credit to President Kennedy as having an interest in preserving peace in the Caribbean and said both were negotiating so that pledges on both sides would be kept.

It was then that he thundered out his warning that the pledges must be kept.

Khrushchev, referring to what he apparently meant by President Kennedy's "pledge," said the United States had promised "not to attack the republic of Cuba and to restrain its allies from doing so."

But despite the implied threat, the Khrushchev speech appeared to have a defensive tone. He remarked that there was no question of who won in the Cuban crisis, saying that "sanity and the cause of peace" were the winners.

Khrushchev's warning came after he had claimed the Soviet Union had prevented an attack on Cuba by "aggressive circles" of the United States to avert "the direct threat of a thermonuclear world war."

The Soviet leader, in a major foreign policy speech, called for "renunciation of war among states as a means of settling international disputes (and) their solution through negotiations."

Khrushchev called the solution of the Caribbean crisis "a major victory for the policy of peace," but he repeatedly attacked "the aggressive circles of imperialism."

And in an obvious retort to the Chinese Communists, who criticize the Soviet backdown in Cuba, Khrushchev asserted:

"Events have confirmed that the peace forces are able to overcome the most dangerous international aggressors, to curb the imperialist aggressors."

Seated in a place of honor on the rostrum was President Tito of Yugoslavia, who was branded as a "traitor to world communism" a week ago by the Red Chinese.

Carlos Rodriguez, head of a Cuban trade delegation which arrived here Monday, was also on the rostrum.

Khrushchev coupled his call again for peaceful coexistence between East and West with a charge "imperialist aggressors" were stirring up international tensions with threats and a warning that the Soviet Union had rockets to "reply to a blow by our enemies with a lightning smashing blow."

He outlined in detail the progress of negotiations conducted by urgent letters with President Kennedy, and declared at one point: "If the other side had not shown restraint, an explosion would have followed."

During the first hour of his speech he made one brief reference to Germany, saying the problem should be settled by treaty and the Berlin affair should be settled on the basis of that treaty.

But he avoided repeating a threat of an immediate signing of a separate treaty, and he withheld any demand that Berlin be made a free city and American, French and British troops be withdrawn.

Last January, the club's admissions committee turned down the application of Carl Rowan, a Negro, who is a deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

It brought an outcry of discrimination and several government officials resigned, including John Kenneth Galbraith, ambassador to India, who had proposed President Kennedy for membership.

"Being a member or not a member is a matter of conscience," Galbraith announced then. "And mine was best served by resigning."

And Kennedy passed the word that he did not want to join.

WORKMEN found the break in a main line just outside the Scioto River pumping station. They began rerouting water around the four-foot main and most of the city was expected to have water again by noon.

The lack of water came during the coldest night of the season in Columbus. The city's low reading in the early morning hours was one below zero.

Mayor Westlake declared the state of emergency after numerous offices, including most of those at the Statehouse, announced they would shut down for the day. Also closed were all public and parochial schools, and downtown stores. Affected besides the downtown area were parts of the north, northwest, and south sides of the city.

There were no blocks against traffic and while stores were not yet open, many people reported for work before they knew of the emergency.

In addition to the main line break, which occurred about 3:15 a.m., a similar rupture occurred in the water system at the Ohio Penitentiary. The prison supplies steam heat to the Statehouse, state office building, and the Wyandotte Building which also houses some state offices. Officials said that break also was expected to be by-passed by late morning.

Warden Ernie Maxwell said the break in an eight-inch main meant the prison could supply only limited heat to the three buildings most of the day. He said heat was being maintained at the penitentiary but below normal in many buildings.

Leader Affirms His Support of Castro Regime

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev declared today that if American pledges on Cuba are not fulfilled "we will be compelled to take such actions as the situation requires of us."

He was speaking to the Supreme Soviet.

The statement was made at the end of an hour of speaking in the great Kremlin hall during which the premier said the Soviet Union had demonstrated it could preserve peace.

"We will never leave revolutionary Cuba in trouble," Khrushchev said.

"We will defend the right of the Cuban people to pursue their bright future."

He paid credit to President Kennedy as having an interest in preserving peace in the Caribbean and said both were negotiating so that pledges on both sides would be kept.

It was then that he thundered out his warning that the pledges must be kept.

Khrushchev, referring to what he apparently meant by President Kennedy's "pledge," said the United States had promised "not to attack the republic of Cuba and to restrain its allies from doing so."

But despite the implied threat, the Khrushchev speech appeared to have a defensive tone. He remarked that there was no question of who won in the Cuban crisis, saying that "sanity and the cause of peace" were the winners.

Khrushchev's warning came after he had claimed the Soviet Union had prevented an attack on Cuba by "aggressive circles" of the United States to avert "the direct threat of a thermonuclear world war."

The Soviet leader, in a major foreign policy speech, called for "renunciation of war among states as a means of settling international disputes (and) their solution through negotiations."

Khrushchev called the solution of the Caribbean crisis "a major victory for the policy of peace," but he repeatedly attacked "the aggressive circles of imperialism."

And in an obvious retort to the Chinese Communists, who criticize the Soviet backdown in Cuba, Khrushchev asserted:

"Events have confirmed that the peace forces are able to overcome the most dangerous international crisis, to curb the imperialist aggressors."

Seated in a place of honor on the rostrum was President Tito of Yugoslavia, who was branded as a "traitor to world communism" a week ago by the Red Chinese.

Carlos Rodriguez, head of a Cuban trade delegation which arrived here Monday, was also on the rostrum.

Khrushchev coupled his call again for peaceful coexistence between East and West with a charge "imperialist aggressors" were stirring up international tensions with threats and a warning that the Soviet Union had rockets to "reply to a blow by our enemies with a lightning smashing blow."

He outlined in detail the progress of negotiations conducted by urgent letters with President Kennedy, and declared at one point: "If the other side had not shown restraint, an explosion would have followed."

During the first hour of his speech he made one brief reference to Germany, saying the problem should be settled by treaty and the Berlin affair should be settled on the basis of that treaty.

But he avoided repeating a threat of an immediate signing of a separate treaty, and he withheld any demand that Berlin be made a free city and American, French and British troops be withdrawn.

No Quick Break Seen in Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonably cold weather and gusty, raw winds held a vise-like grip over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation today.

There appeared little prospect of an immediate, general break in the bone-chilling weather.

Record low temperatures were reported in most of the ice belt for the second straight day — 10 days in advance of the official start of the winter season.

In the snow-covered sections of the Northeast, pounded by storms for nearly a week, more heavy snow fell. Weary highway crews struggled to keep the main arteries open. Snow depths measured eight feet in parts of northeastern Ohio.

The main core of the Arctic air centered in the North Central region. Brisk winds powered the sub-zero cold southward to the Gulf Coast and eastward to the Appalachians.

Temperatures far below zero were reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin, ranging from as low as 18 below in Huron, S. D.

Below-zero marks were general in the Midwest.

The South shivered in the season's coldest weather. It was near zero in sections of North Carolina, Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee and in mountain areas of northern Georgia and Alabama.

Florida reeled from the abnormally low temperatures for the second consecutive day. The bitter cold threatened winter vegetables. Damage to crops varied but some estimates are in the millions of dollars. No serious damage was reported immediately to citrus crops.

The beaches in southern Florida were bare and the tourists were clothed in newly bought sweaters and coats. Miami's 38 above Tuesday was a record low for Dec. 11. It was 48 this morning.

New low temperatures for the date were set Tuesday in many sections of the icy belt. The mercury continued its downward plunge during the night and early morning, threatening record lows for today.

Much of the eastern half of the nation felt the effects of the storm and cold which packed the punch normally expected in mid-winter.

Nehru Says India Will Not Guarantee China's Cease-Fire

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India has given no guarantee it will continue to observe the cease-fire the Chinese Communists proclaimed in the Himalayas. Nehru told Parliament.

"We have given no guarantee on the future of the cease-fire," told Parliament.

"It depends upon the circumstances. But for the time being India is accepting it."

Nehru said India does not wish to impede the cease-fire and welcomes reports of Chinese withdrawal on the northeastern frontier. The Chinese are insisting on holding their present positions in Ladakh, at the northwestern end of the border, where they occupied more than 2,000 square miles in their invasion.

Whatever the outcome of the cease-fire and the Chinese withdrawal, Nehru said, India will have to continue to strengthen its defense forces.

Bloodmobile Due Friday

Special Plea Made To Reach Quota Here

Pickaway County blood recruitment officials have been asked to raise their sights Friday when the Bloodmobile makes its final visit of the year here.

The county is now 57 pints below its quota so far this year. Collections to date have averaged 116 pints per visit.

According to the Regional Blood Center, the minimum required to meet the goal is 125 pints per visit.

Local recruiting spokesmen today pointed out that Pickaway will have the opportunity to fulfill its obligation Friday. It has been more than eight weeks since the last visit here, meaning that all previous donors will be eligible this time.

Chairman Robert Johnson expressed sound hope that Pickaway Countians will respond to this special plea for more donors just as they have in past cases.

Many Ohio Roads Still Snow-Covered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state highway department's early road condition report today said primary and secondary highways are generally snow covered in north central and northeastern Ohio, normal in the southwest and south central, with the balance partly snow covered. The Ohio Turnpike is reported normal west, slippery in spots east except west in the Warren-Youngstown area.

Market Destroyed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — An explosion and fire, touched off by escaping gas, today destroyed a one-story brick building housing the Lincoln Market at 2743 Detroit Ave.

The explosion blew out the front of the building and closed busy Detroit Avenue to traffic for more than three hours.

A spokesman for Ohio Fuel Gas Co. said the blaze was fed by a break in an eight-inch gas main. There was no damage estimate.

Newark Area Lakes Come under Study

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Army engineers are giving "detailed consideration" to a plan to create two large man-made lakes north of here as part of a flood control program for the Newark area.

Tom Whitman, project engineer for the Corps of Engineers, said a survey now under way on the proposal should be completed by next March.

One project would be located three to four miles north of Utica. It calls for a 3,500-acre reservoir on the north fork of the Licking River which would include a 1,500-acre pool for summer recreation, Whitman said.

The other would be between Johnstown and Alexandria. Preliminary plans call for a flood control pool of about 800 acres and a permanent pool of 350 acres.

Then She Was Tranquil

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A Des Moines housewife was told by her doctor that whenever she faces a busy day, she should take a tranquilizer.

One morning she laid out one of the little white pills. But she forgot to take it right away. She zipped through her morning routine, then thought of the pill. Without taking time to retrieve her glasses, she suddenly gulped a small white object.

It was a shirt button.

No Quick . . .

Bureau's description of conditions in the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions.

More heavy snow was dumped along the eastern shores of Lakes Michigan, Erie and Ontario. Drifts piled up higher than four feet in some places.

A state of emergency was declared in Conneaut, in northeast Ohio, as huge drifts from the 30 inches on the ground blocked all roads leading into the community of 16,000. National Guardsmen brought a supply of food and fuel into the snowbound area and used some tanks and heavy trucks for a shuttle service to a hospital.

Two men died of heart attacks while shoveling snow in Ohio, raising the death toll in Ohio alone to 25.

Storm-related deaths since the storm struck in some areas last Wednesday were more than 70.

There were monumental traffic jams in many parts of the snow belt. Schools remained closed in many areas. In Cleveland, John Carroll University announced its 3,916 students would begin Christmas vacation immediately. It had been scheduled to start Dec. 18. All public and Catholic schools remained closed in Cleveland as was Case Institute of Technology.

Hundreds of schools also were closed in other parts of the snow-covered sections and in cold sections of the South.

In upstate New York, the State Thruway's 66-mile stretch from south of Buffalo to the Pennsylvania state line was reopened late Tuesday after being closed by the heavy snow for 18 hours. Snow tapered off in the Watertown area, where it measured nearly 30 inches. But forecasters predicted more snow.

A three-inch snowfall in Washington during the peak of the evening rush-hour caused a major traffic jam. Many motorists who live in Virginia and Maryland spent three to four hours driving home from the nation's capital.

Pontiff Speaks Of His Illness

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Pope John XXIII spoke calmly today of his illness and said he might still be Pope a year from now—"or there will be another."

Still a bit pale, the 81-year-old Roman Catholic ruler seemed cheerful at his first general audience since becoming seriously ill Nov. 27.

His mood spread to the 1,000 persons admitted to the audience in the Clementine Hall of the Vatican. They laughed as he spoke of his health and age. He smiled.

His audience was one more step toward a full resumption of his normal activities.

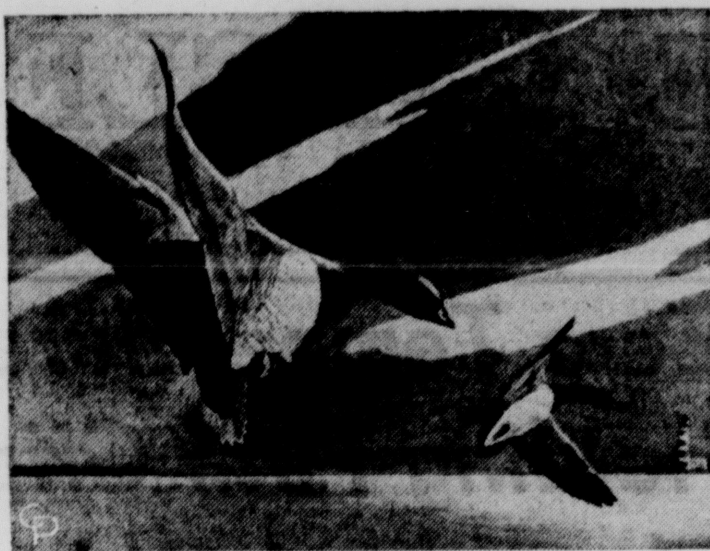

It was not his first appearance in public since a stomach disorder and anemia forced him to curtail his activities. He attended the last two sessions of the first phase of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council. He also participated in canonization ceremonies on Sunday.

At the audience, he referred again to his hope that the council would end by Christmas 1963—a hope he first expressed Saturday when he recessed the council.

Speaker Cloud Listed In Good Condition

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Speaker Roger Cloud, injured in an automobile accident Monday night when his car skidded off a highway near here, will be unable to resume his official duties for a week or 10 days, his physicians reported today.

He is in Mary Rutan Hospital here in good condition. He suffered a fractured nose and ribs, but further examination disclosed he did not suffer a brain concussion as feared.

Fall Results In $20,000 Damages Suit

A $20,000 damages suit was filed Monday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court against Mrs. Brunell Downing, 214 E. Main St., by Mrs. Eva Stevens, 732 S. Scioto St.

The lawsuit came as the result of an accident occurring at the Downing residence on July 4, 1961.

Mrs. Stevens, employed by Mrs. Downing to do various household chores and maintenance work, stated in her petition that she suffered a severe back injury in a fall from a ladder while repairing a drain spouting at her employer's residence.

The plaintiff alleges that Mrs. Downing agreed to hold the base of the ladder to insure her safety while doing the repair work. While she was on the ladder, approximately 12 feet from the ground, the petition states, Mrs. Downing left the base of the ladder and went into the house. The ladder slipped and Mrs. Stevens fell, landing partially on brick and grass surfaces.

Mrs. Stevens claims as a direct result of the defendant's negligence, she suffered severe contusions to the lower back, legs and arms; a severe injury to her lower back sacrum and pinched nerves; and that the injury is permanent and disabling.

The plaintiff listed $844.24 in medical and hospital expenses already incurred. Prior to her injury she states that she earned approximately $50 per week and has been unable to do so since the accident.

Baritone — Jon Anderson, Arnold Holbrook, Norman Kelly, Jeff Monroe, Dennis Mumaw, Randy Nelson, Philip Niswender, Carl Zehner.

Piano accompanist for the choir is Cheryl Mumaw.

Girls' Triple Trio members are: first sopranos — Susan Reichelderfer, Paula Lowe, Doris Vanhoose; second sopranos — Cheryl Mumaw, Sharon Hosier, Christine Zehner; altos — Sally Linn, Karen Sampson, Patty Town. Piano accompanist for the Triple Trio is Cathy Griner.

Newark Area Lakes Come under Study

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Army engineers are giving "detailed consideration" to a plan to create two large man-made lakes north of here as part of a flood control program for the Newark area.

Tom Whitman, project engineer for the Corps of Engineers, said a survey now under way on the proposal should be completed by next March.

One project would be located three to four miles north of Utica. It calls for a 3.50-acre reservoir on the north fork of the Licking River which would include a 1,500-acre pool for summer recreation, Whitman said.

The other would be between Johnstown and Alexandria. Preliminary plans call for a flood control pool of about 800 acres and a permanent pool of 350 acres.

Then She Was Tranquil

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A Des Moines housewife was told by her doctor that whenever she faces a busy day, she should take a tranquilizer.

One morning she laid out one of the little white pills. But she forgot to take it right away. She zipped through her morning routine, then thought of the pill. Without taking time to retrieve her glasses, she suddenly gulped a small white object.

It was a shirt button.

Bureau's description of conditions in the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions.

More heavy snow was dumped along the eastern shores of Lakes Michigan, Erie and Ontario. Drifts piled up higher than four feet in some places.

A state of emergency was declared in Conneaut, in northeast Ohio, as huge drifts from the 30 inches on the ground blocked all roads leading into the community of 16,000. National Guardsmen brought a supply of food and fuel into the snowbound area and used some tanks and heavy trucks for a shuttle service to a hospital.

Two men died of heart attacks while shoveling snow in Ohio, raising the death toll in Ohio alone to 25.

Storm-related deaths since the storm struck in some areas last Wednesday were more than 70.

There were monumental traffic jams in many parts of the snow belt. Schools remained closed in many areas. In Cleveland, John Carroll University announced its 3,916 students would begin Christmas vacation immediately. It had been scheduled to start Dec. 18. All public and Catholic schools remained closed in Cleveland as was Case Institute of Technology.

Hundreds of schools also were closed in other parts of the snow-covered sections and in cold sections of the South.

In upstate New York, the State Thruway's 66-mile stretch from south of Buffalo to the Pennsylvania state line was re-opened late Tuesday after being closed by the heavy snow for 18 hours. Snow tanned off in the Watertown area, where it measured nearly 30 inches. But forecasters predicted more snow.

A three-inch snowfall in Washington during the peak of the evening rush-hour caused a major traffic jam. Many motorists who live in Virginia and Maryland spent three to four hours driving home from the nation's capital.

Pontiff Speaks Of His Illness

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Pope John XXIII spoke calmly today of his illness and said he might still be Pope a year from now—"or there will be another."

Still a bit pale, the 81-year-old Roman Catholic ruler seemed cheerful at his first general audience since becoming seriously ill Nov. 27.

His mood spread to the 1,000 persons admitted to the audience in the Clementine Hall of the Vatican. They laughed as he spoke of his health and age. He smiled.

His audience was one more step toward a full resumption of his normal activities.

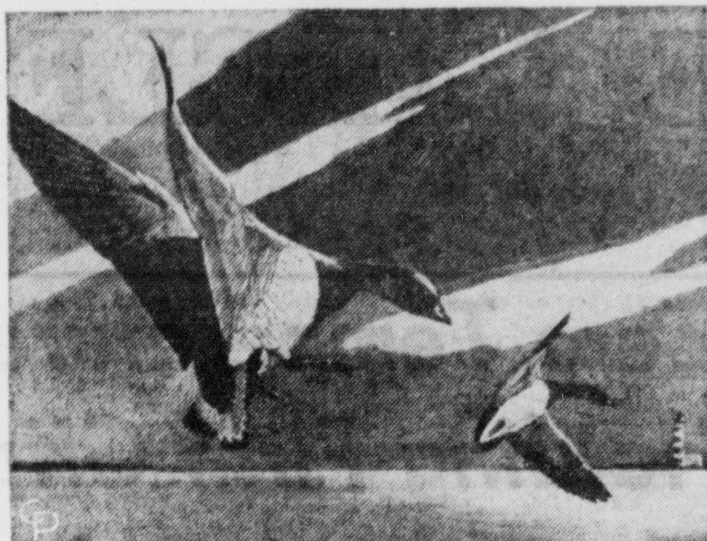

It was not his first appearance in public since a stomach disorder and anemia forced him to curtail his activities. He attended the last two sessions of the first phase of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council. He also participated in canonization ceremonies on Sunday.

At the audience, he referred again to his hope that the council would end by Christmas 1963—a hope he first expressed Saturday when he recessed the council.

Speaker Cloud Listed In Good Condition

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Speaker Roger Cloud, injured in an automobile accident Monday night when his car skidded off a highway near here, will be unable to resume his official duties for a week or 10 days, his physicians reported today.

He is in Mary Rutan Hospital here in good condition. He suffered a fractured nose and ribs, but further examination disclosed he did not suffer a brain concussion as feared.

Fall Results In $20,000 Damages Suit

A $20,000 damages suit was filed Monday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court against Mrs. Brunell Downing, 214 E. Main St., by Mrs. Eva Stevens, 732 S. Scioto St.

The lawsuit came as the result of an accident occurring at the Downing residence on July 4, 1961.

Mrs. Stevens, employed by Mrs. Downing to do various household chores and maintenance work, stated in her petition that she suffered a severe back injury in a fall from a ladder while repairing a drain spouting at her employer's residence.

The plaintiff alleges that Mrs. Downing agreed to hold the base of the ladder to insure her safety while doing the repair work. While she was on the ladder, approximately 12 feet from the ground, the petition states, Mrs. Downing left the base of the ladder and went into the house. The ladder slipped and Mrs. Stevens fell, landing partially on brick and grass surfaces.

Mrs. Stevens claims as a direct result of the defendant's negligence, she suffered severe contusions to the lower back, legs and arms; a severe injury to her lower back sacrum and pinched nerves; and that the injury is permanent and disabling.

The plaintiff listed $844.24 in medical and hospital expenses already incurred. Prior to her injury she states that she earned approximately $50 per week and has been unable to do so since the accident.

Aid to Captive Nations

The United States displayed a stiffened backbone in the Berlin and Cuban crises and in its willingness to aid invaded India.

To weaken its stand now against Soviet slavery would be adding chains to captive nations and forging links by which this country itself could be enslaved eventually.

The nine slave states of Central Europe still hope for self-determination. The U.S. has given them every reason to maintain those hopes. Recent events raised their expectations. After years of vacillation during which Soviet gains were solidified, America felt the hot breath of hemispheric communism.

Captive nations do not expect armed intervention from the U. S. at this time. A principal topic on the UN General Assembly agenda is Hungary. Having condemned Soviet aggression there after 1956 the UN by resolution called for the application of charter principles. But without a stronger stand by the U. S. and older countries of the free world those will be paper scraps.

For two years the UN has been almost silent on this subject. This country has not even exploited the possibilities by denouncing Soviet colonialism to newly emerging and neutral nations.

There are fears that Washington, in its anxiety to avoid other crises, has softened its backing of Hungary that it contemplates increasing trade and other aid to the Kadar regime. If Washington relaxes pressure, either at the UN or in direct dealings with Kadar before any fundamental reforms are made — or without making reforms a condition of better relationship — this country's best bargaining position will have been lost.

To relieve economic shortages in Hungary or any other captive nation is to bolster puppet regimes, to discourage popular resistance, to aid the Soviet economy and strengthen it in all areas now under red control or falling in that direction. The U. S. will be offered trivial concessions, in the "apple for an orchard" kind of swapping.

Secret arrests, secret trials and punishment continue in the captive nations. Prisons and compounds continue to hold thousands, religious believers still are persecuted. Housing and other shortages are unabated.

The United States professes to be a strong, liberty loving nation. Now it must act like one.

Drawbacks to Grants

Despite large federal grants to universities for research in the natural sciences, the proportion of students who specialize in this field is not increasing. So says the United States Office of Education in a lengthy study released recently.

The students are deserting the humanities, but the increases are to be found in the social sciences — economics, history, sociology and psychology — a field in which there are few federal grants to act as inducements.

Moot Question

A moot question of our age is, how valuable is summit diplomacy? It was in the ascendancy until the shattering break-up of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev Paris summit, but there are still calls for summit meetings whenever a crisis or near-crisis hoves into sight.

There is no simple answer, of course, because circumstances dictate a summit's value. One cannot say summit diplomacy is either good or bad.

But it's interesting to note that President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have used a variation of summit diplomacy during the Cuban crisis. This has been their exchange of letters.

Apparently some significant and personal views have been exchanged in their correspondence. A number of letters have been exchanged in their correspondence. A number of letters have passed back and forth, probably including several to which no public reference has been made.

In behalf of such diplomacy is the argument that such direct exchanges afford a greater degree of privacy. The correspondence is less susceptible to leaks, and custom does not dictate that the letters be published.

The same argument perhaps works against the use of such correspondence by a U. S. President. Here too much secrecy is suspect. And there is the background of criticism leveled against some of the wartime "understandings" reached by President Roosevelt with other leaders through personal notes.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AMANDA'S NEW boy friend drew up to her doorstep in a slick new foreign sports car, and while waiting for Amanda to put in an appearance, treated her pa to a few of his views and sentiments. Pa, very definitely unimpressed, told his daughter the next morning, "That new young man of yours is a pompous pinhead. What does he do for a living, anyhow?"

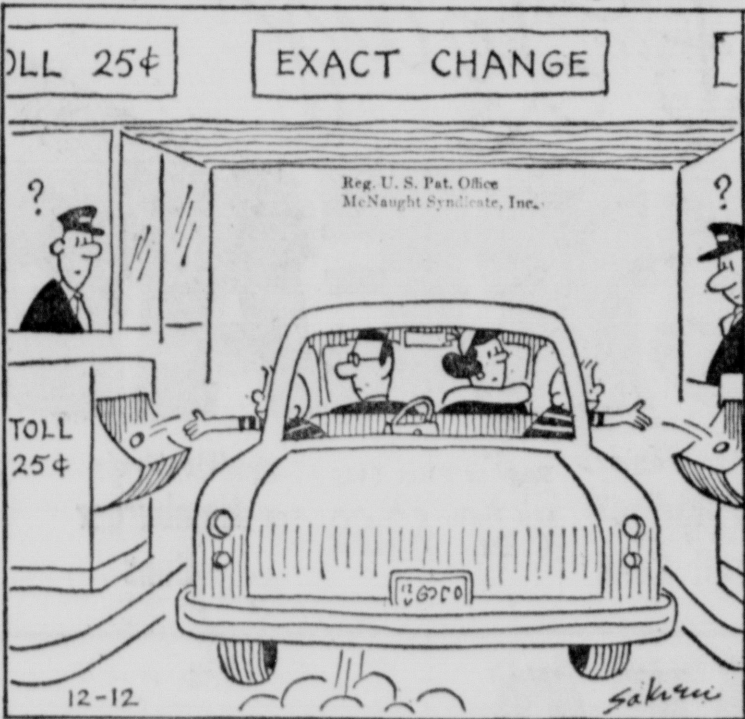

Amanda explained loftily, "He inherits." The British medical journal, Lancet, offers this rewriting of Kipling's "If": "If you can fill the unforgiving minute with sixty seconds' worth of distance run, you'll have the world and everything that's in it—and a coronary before you're fifty-one."

A sad-eyed guest at a Catskill resort confided to an intimate, "My wife had a disconcerting dream last night. She dreamed she had married a multimillionaire." "You're lucky," sighed the intimate. "My wife dreams that in the daytime."

Mourns Robert Fitch: "All day I drink it black and strong. All night I lie awake. More than I need a friend or song, I need a coffee brake!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON M. FERN, M. D.

Dear Doctor: I'm certain that 50 bee stings cured my chronic pneumonia. Is this possible?

Dear Mrs. R.: Yes Bee stings resemble milk injections which doctors used to give. These shots whipped up antibody production and general resistance to help destroy the foreign chemical.

Don't think your cure is all milk and honey. Bee stings can be dangerous, sometimes fatal, especially if you have hives or some other allergy.

Dear Doctor: No cured alcoholics? Haven't you read about allergy treatments curing alcoholism?

Mr. J. G. (Neb.) Dear Mr. G.: Alcoholism may be an allergy. Many alcoholics are allergic to rye, corn or wheat. Presumably, one drink triggers the allergy — an overwhelming craving for more.

To control food allergy, you avoid eating the offending food. The allergic alcoholic must avoid even a wee nip of alcohol. Unlike a permanent cure, food and drink allergy blossoms again should you gulp down the wrong thing.

Dear Doctor: Is cancer inherited?

Mr. F. K. (Calif.) Dear Mr. K.: Cancer runs in families. A susceptibility seems to be inherited.

When it strikes one identical twin, it often strikes the other. Identical twins inherit the same traits. They begin as one single fertilized egg that breaks in two.

Non-identical twins come from two separate fertilized eggs and inherit different traits. Cancer more often strikes one without the other.

Dear Doctor: Could I contract tuberculosis while visiting a friend in a TB sanitarium?

Mrs. J. S. (N. J.)

Dear Mrs. S.: Probably not. After a few days of treatment with TB germ-killing drugs, hardly any victim can spread the disease. That's why so many TB victims can be safely treated at home.

And remember — December is the time to help stamp out TB. Have you bought your Christmas seals?

Dear Doctor: My doctor prescribed pills to prevent my risking the complications of another pregnancy. Do these pills contain cancer-causing hormones?

Mrs. D. R. (Ohio)

Dear Mrs. R.: The active ingredient resembles female hormones

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The long-embattled watch industry has a new rivalry these days—the mainspring vs. the electric battery.

In an industry where change traditionally comes slowly, the inroads of the tiny battery haven't been too striking as yet. But the makers of battery-powered watches hope to do about 5 per cent of the total business this year.

With about 20 million watches being sold annually in the United States for a dollar volume estimated at $550 million, the relatively newcomer to the competitive field isn't much of a headache yet to the makers of mainsprings.

But old hands in the industry have learned to be patient. They note it took 50 years for wrist watches to replace pocket watches in America. And the self-winding watch took some 20 years to become really popular.

The electric-battery watchmakers are counting on the big inroads that form of energy is making in many fields to attract attention to their product.

They point out that compact energy cells have taken over in many devices once dominated by motors, plug-ins or hand power. They cite battery-run electric shavers and toothbrushes. Pencil sharpeners are operated by batteries in some offices. There are for smokers and even swizzle sticks for bartenders. And you may have noted that teen-agers carry battery powered radios and record players.

Watches first appeared during the Renaissance. Until recently the source of power has always been the mainspring. For centuries this was wound by hand. The spring moves the balance wheel, which in turn moves the hands of the watch. In recent years the self-winding variety has kept the mainspring wound by the motion of the wearer's arm.

The latest watch version, as now offered by a majority of watch companies, including Bulova, Hamilton, Elgin and Timex, does away with the mainspring.

In its place a battery slightly larger than an aspirin tablet feeds power to the balance wheel. The battery lasts about a year and the owner never winds his watch, whether it is on his wrist or in a drawer. The electric current keeps the balance wheel going. A new cell costs about $1.

What Are Colleges For?

By George Sokolsky

I was going through Lovejoy's "Guidance Digest", the authoritative publication on American colleges, and came across this:

"Could you send me a list of colleges that do not require math as a requirement for a degree while in college?"

C.G.R. (Guid. Couns., N. Y. high school)

"In many cases students are allowed to choose either a math or science course to meet degree requirements. The following colleges do not specifically have a math requirement for the undergraduate degree: Adelphi Coll., Bethany Coll. (W.Va.), Boston Univ., Centre Coll. of Kentucky, Colorado Coll., Georgetown Coll. (Ky.), Iowa Wesleyan Coll., Adrian Coll., Allegheny, and Ball State Teachers Coll."

It came to me to wonder why this student wanted a college that required no math. Had he failed in math? I know a boy who is a brilliant scientific student but who had to take his calculus examination three times before he got it well. Now he can teach calculus.

Education is not how little you can get away with but how much knowledge and universal experience you can accumulate. Mathematics is essential. All science uses mathematics for measurement, calculation and computation. Without a basic knowledge of mathematics, how can one know physics or chemistry or even measure an iambic pentameter?

The guidance counselor of that New York high school really ought to ask his student to go back and study some math before his arteries get too hard to study anything. How much literature does this student know? What languages has he studied? Why does he want to go to college at all? Or is it a trade school?

For instance, in the same issue of Lovejoy's guide, I find a letter which asks:

"One of my counselees is interested in a college which has a good wrestling team and which could offer some financial aid to an excellent, lightweight wrestler. He is not a top student but maintains about a 75 per cent average. He plans to major in physical education. Please send me the names of colleges we might investigate."

This raises the question of the athletic scholarship which is a public relations gambit and is in no manner related to education. Physical education is a misnomer because education has to do with the mind and not with muscles. If we require muscular fellows, there should be special places for that purpose, principally gymnasiums. A college should exist for the cultivation of the mind. Wrestling does not cultivate the mind.

Instead of looking for an athletic scholarship, that student should be told to push his marks up and get into a good school.

Ike Lovejoy answers him: "Most colleges these days do not offer grants to athletes for athletic skill alone but you may want to contact the following colleges which are among those which have a physical education major and a wrestling team: Pennsylvania State Coll. (at E. Stroudsburg, Lock Haven, Slippery Rock, West Chester), Marshall Coll., Kent State Univ., Ball State Teachers Coll., Bowling Green State Univ."

As much as I dislike the expansion of the Federal Government into education, I nevertheless am sure that the day must come when a degree again has some specific value. A degree, B.A. or B.S., often means nothing and when one talks to the person who bears such a degree and even wears a Phi Beta Kappa key, he might be floored by the ignorance of ordinary things. One who said that he had a familiarity with American history did not know Colonel House or James Madison or who wrote the Monroe Doctrine, it, of course, not being President Monroe. How little knowledge does one need to get by?

For those to whom ignorance is bliss, the college ought to be no place. The cost of maintenance is so great that there must be a screening of students so that college funds are not consumed by students who cannot pass unless the standards are so low that my dog, Joe, could get by. There are apparently such places and it would benefit society if they were shut down and their funds sent to schools which maintain high standards for admission and for graduation.

Some colleges, seeking an excuse for admitting the less literate, use such yardsticks as civic interest, leadership potential, character, honesty and motivation — a maze of subjection considerations which prove nothing. The yardstick of a classroom is the degree of passing or failure in academic subjects.

Q. I recently had a physical exam and it was discovered that my blood cholesterol reading is "above 200." Does this indicate hardening of the arteries?

A. We have said it before and we repeat: it is virtually impossible to establish a "normal" cholesterol level as a standard for comparison. In the light of present scientific knowledge, there is little justification in putting much emphasis on a single cholesterol determination. Such a determination or "reading" can not be taken to mean artery-hardening, nor does a so-called "normal" level indicate that the arteries are in good shape.

Aid to Captive Nations

The United States displayed a stiffened backbone in the Berlin and Cuban crises and in its willingness to aid invaded India. To weaken its stand now against Soviet slavery would be adding chains to captive nations and forging links by which this country itself could be enslaved eventually.

The nine slave states of Central Europe still hope for self-determination. The U.S. has given them every reason to maintain those hopes. Recent events raised their expectations. After years of vacillation during which Soviet gains were solidified, America felt the hot breath of hemispheric communism.

Captive nations do not expect armed intervention from the U. S. at this time. A principal topic on the UN General Assembly agenda is Hungary. Having condemned Soviet aggression there after 1956 the UN by resolution called for the application of charter principles. But without a stronger stand by the U. S. and older countries of the free world those will be paper scraps.

For two years the UN has been almost silent on this subject. This country has not even exploited the possibilities by denouncing Soviet colonialism to newly em-

Drawbacks to Grants

Despite large federal grants to universities for research in the natural sciences, the proportion of students who specialize in this field is not increasing. So says the United States Office of Education in a lengthy study released recently.

The students are deserting the humanities, but the increases are to be found in the social sciences — economics, history, sociology and psychology — a field in which there are few federal grants to act as inducements.

Moot Question

A moot question of our age is, how valuable is summit diplomacy? It was in the ascendancy until the shattering break-up of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev Paris summit, but there are still calls for summit meetings whenever a crisis or near-crisis hoves into sight.

There is no simple answer, of course, because circumstances dictate a summit's value. One cannot say summit diplomacy is either good or bad.

But it's interesting to note that President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have used a variation of summit diplomacy during the Cuban crisis. This has been their exchange of letters.

Apparently some significant and personal views have been exchanged in their correspondence. A number of letters have erging and neutral nations.

There are fears that Washington, in its anxiety to avoid other crises, has softened its backing of Hungary that it contemplates increasing trade and other aid to the Kadar regime. If Washington relaxes pressure, either at the UN or in direct dealings with Kadar before any fundamental reforms are made — or without making reforms a condition of better relationship — this country's best bargaining position will have been lost.

To relieve economic shortages in Hungary or any other captive nation is to bolster puppet regimes, to discourage popular resistance, to aid the Soviet economy and strengthen it in all areas now under red control or falling in that direction. The U. S. will be offered trivial concessions, in the "apple for an orchard" kind of swapping.

Secret arrests, secret trials and punishment continue in the captive nations. Prisons and compounds continue to hold thousands, religious believers still are persecuted. Housing and other shortages are unabated.

The United States professes to be a strong, liberty loving nation. Now it must act like one.

There is reason to believe, too, that the program of grants also is adversely affecting the relationship between teachers and students. The report says because of faculty members' emphasis on research, teachers at large universities no longer know personally even students majoring in their own department.

In this, as in many other areas, federal spending is not an automatic solution to the problem.

been exchanged in their correspondence. A number of letters have passed back and forth, probably including several to which no public reference has been made.

In behalf of such diplomacy is the argument that such direct exchanges afford a greater degree of privacy. The correspondence is less susceptible to leaks, and custom does not dictate that the letters be published.

The same argument perhaps works against the use of such correspondence by a U. S. President. Here too much secrecy is suspect. And there is the background of criticism leveled against some of the wartime "understandings" reached by President Roosevelt with other leaders through personal notes.

AMANDA'S NEW boy friend drew up to her doorstep in a sleek new foreign sports car, and while waiting for Amanda to put in an appearance, treated her pa to a few of his views and sentiments.

Pa, very definitely unimpressed, told his daughter the next morning, "That new young man of yours is a pompous pinhead. What does he do for a living, anyhow?"

Amanda explained loftily, "He inherits."

Dear Doctor: I'm certain that 50 bee stings cured my chronic pneumonia. Is this possible?

Dear Mrs. R.: Yes Bee stings resemble milk injections which doctors used to give. These shots whipped up antibody production and general resistance to help destroy the foreign chemical.

Don't think your cure is all milk and honey. Bee stings can be dangerous, sometimes fatal, especially if you have hives or some other allergy.

Dear Doctor: No cured alcoholics? Haven't you read about allergy treatments curing alcoholism?

Mr. J. G. (Neb.)

Dear Mr. G.: Alcoholism may be an allergy. Many alcoholics are allergic to rye, corn or wheat. Presumably, one drink triggers the allergy — an overwhelming craving for more.

To control food allergy, you avoid eating the offending food. The allergic alcoholic must avoid even a wee nip of alcohol. Unlike a permanent cure, food and drink allergy blossoms again should you gulp down the wrong thing.

Dear Doctor: Is cancer inherited?

Mr. F. K. (Calif.)

Dear Mr. K.: Cancer runs in families. A susceptibility seems to be inherited.

When it strikes one identical twin, it often strikes the other. Identical twins inherit the same traits. They begin as one single fertilized egg that breaks in two.

Non-identical twins come from two separate fertilized eggs and inherit different traits. Cancer

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The long-embattled watch industry has a new rivalry these days—the mainspring vs. the electric battery.

In an industry where change traditionally comes slowly, the inroads of the tiny battery haven't been too striking as yet. But the makers of battery-powered watches hope to do about 5 per cent of the total business this year.

With about 20 million watches being sold annually in the United States for a dollar volume estimated at $550 million, the relatively newcomer to the competitive field isn't much of a headache yet to the makers of mainsprings.

But old hands in the industry have learned to be patient. They note it took 50 years for wrist watches to replace pocket watches in America. And the self-winding watch took some 20 years to become really popular.

By Sam Dawson

The electric-battery watchmakers are counting on the big inroads that form of energy is making in many fields to attract attention to their product.

They point out that compact energy cells have taken over in many devices once dominated by motors, plug-ins or hand power. They cite battery-run electric shavers and toothbrushes. Pencil sharpeners are operated by batteries in some offices. There are for smokers and even swizzle sticks for bartenders. And you may have noted that teen-agers carry battery powered radios and record players.

Watches first appeared during the Renaissance. Until recently the source of power has always been the mainspring. For centuries this was wound by hand. The spring moves the balance wheel, which in turn moves the hands of the watch. In recent years the self-winding variety has kept the mainspring wound by the motion of the wearer's arm.

The latest watch version, as now offered by a majority of watch companies, including Bulova, Hamilton, Elgin and Timex, does away with the mainspring. In its place a battery slightly larger than an aspirin tablet feeds power to the balance wheel. The battery lasts about a year and the owner never winds his watch, whether it is on his wrist or in a drawer. The electric current keeps the balance wheel going. A new cell costs about $1.

What Are Colleges For?

I was going through Lovejoy's "Guidance Digest", the authoritative publication on American colleges, and came across this:

"Could you send me a list of colleges that do not require math as a requirement for a degree while in college?"

C.G.R.

(Guid, Couns., N. Y. high school)

"In many cases students are allowed to choose either a math or science course to meet degree requirements. The following colleges do not specifically have a math requirement for the undergraduate degree: Adelphi Coll., Bethany Coll. (W.Va.), Boston Univ., Centre Coll. of Kentucky, Colorado Coll., Georgetown Coll. (Ky), Iowa Wesleyan Coll., Adrian Coll., Allegheny, and Ball State Teachers Coll."

It came to me to wonder why this student wanted a college that required no math. Had he failed in math? I know a boy who is a brilliant scientific student but who had to take his calculus examination three times before he got it well. Now he can teach calculus.

Education is not how little you can get away with but how much knowledge and universal experience you can accumulate. Mathematics is essential. All science uses mathematics for measurement, calculation and computation. Without a basic knowledge of mathematics, how can one know physics or chemistry or even measure an iambic pentameter?

The guidance counselor of that New York high school really ought to ask his student to go back and study some math before his arteries get too hard to study anything. How much literature does this student know? What languages has he studied? Why does he want to go to college at all? Or is it a trade school?

By George Sokolsky

For instance, in the same issue of Lovejoy's guide, I find a letter which asks:

Ration Books Seen as Must For Cuba Yule

HAVANA (AP)—Cubans were told today they will have to use ration books to get the goodies that traditionally decorate the Christmas table—pork, poultry, nuts and candy.

"There will not be the great quantity we wish but there will be enough for all," the interior commerce minister, Manuel Lizardo, said in an interview with the government paper Revolucion.

The shoppers' rush was most evident, however, at shoe stores.

Word that a pair could be obtained brought out long lines before stores but the shelves were empty. The government nationalized the shoe industry last week but so far has not put into effect the expected ration scheme.

One of the best Christmas presents for the Cuban was the prediction that more than 16 million pairs of shoes, boots and sneakers would be manufactured next year with everyone promised at least two pairs a year. An unspecified amount will be set aside for export to Bulgaria.

Calories Do Count

Q. I have been taking CDC (Calories Don't Count) Capsules for weight control but I understand that the product has been withdrawn from the market. Is this true?

A. CDC Capsules were withdrawn from the market because the product was misbranded by false and misleading claims in the book "Calories Don't Count." Investigation by the Food and Drug Administration brought to light a surprising story of how this best-selling book was deliberately created and used to promote and sell these worthless sawdust capsules for treatment of obesity, cardiovascular diseases and other serious conditions. The book, supposedly written by a doctor, was mainly the work of laymen. According to FDA, the book is full of false ideas, as many competent medical and nutritional writers have pointed out.

Q. I have heard that a person allergic to dogs should have a French poodle. The reason is that this breed doesn't shed hair and will therefore not cause trouble. Is this true?

A. There is no scientific information to prove that this is true. Some time ago the chihuahua dog was given credit for being curative for persons with asthma. Such claims seem to be merely efforts to sell dogs.

Solaqua GC Members Hold Gift Exchange, Yule Party

Mrs. Willard Barch, Route 1, Lockbourne, entertained members of the Solaqua Garden Club for the annual Christmas Party and gift exchange Friday. Mrs. Everett Peters and Mrs. Glenn Rinehart assisted.

Brightly colored decorations, were used throughout and a Christmas tree radiated the spirit of the season.

A turkey dinner was served at noon from a long table beautifully decorated. A music box brought from Switzerland by Mrs. Harry Trump on her tour last summer, softly played "Silent Night" during the dinner.

Corsages for the holiday season made by Mrs. Lee Downs and Mrs. Trump were sold and the proceeds donated to the club.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president conducted a short business session. The Pickaway County Council Garden Clubs meeting held recently was reviewed. Civic beautification projects were discussed.

Canned food, staple groceries and cash were donated to fill a basket for a needy family for Christmas. Anyone with items for the Christmas basket is asked to deliver them to the home of Mrs. Barch before Sunday.

An invitation was received to attend the silver wedding anniversary Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Peters. It will be held in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Columbus.

Gifts were distributed by matching Christmas cards that had been cut in half. Recipients of mystery sister gifts also received decorative packages. Mrs. John Koch received first prize for the most beautiful package.

The January meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jennie Russell, Ashville, assisted by Mrs. James Hott.

Christmas Carols Topic Of Monday Club Meeting

The Christmas meeting of the Monday Club was held Monday in the trustee's room of Memorial Hall. Mr. George Barnes, president, opened the meeting with a Christmas thought by Charles Dickens.

After the minutes and roll call were read, Mrs. Barnes announced that the Federation decided against further sponsoring of the Vogue sewing contest.

Under the direction of Mrs. Wallace Higgins, the Junior Choir of the Presbyterian Church opened the evening's program of Christmas music with one of the earliest Christmas Hymns, "Of the Father's Love Begotten" based on a poem by a Roman Christian, Aurelius Clemens Prudentius, who lived from 348 to 314 A.D.

Following this Mrs. Higgins explained the history of each carol before the choir sang. She pointed out the international cooperation in the writing of the first song. The best English translation of the words from the original poem is by two 19th Century English clergymen. The melody was derived from a 13th Century Italian plain-song chant. It was first published in a hymnal in Germany which was compiled by a Finn.

Mrs. Higgins continued with the story of the second number, "Infant Holy". A medieval Polish Dance Carol, the melody of which dates from the 13th Century.

The Choir's third selection, "The Coventry Carol" was taken from a 15th Century mystery play. Mrs. Higgins pointed out that among the earliest true Christmas carols in the English language are those found in some of the 15th century religious dramas. This carol was sung in the Nativity play, which was performed each year in the streets of Coventry during the Feast of Corpus Christi.

The fourth number, "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming", was written by one of the most versatile composers of the German Renaissance, Michael Praetorius. He was one of the greatest masters of Protestant Church music and there are more than 1000 compositions attributed to him.

"A Child This Day Is Born", the choir's next number, is a 19th century carol. Mrs. Higgins noted that at the time this carol was written authorities believed that the English Christmas carols would be extinct in another 50 years. However, by publication of a collection of traditional carols in 1822, new interest was awakened in the subject and other collections followed.

This number, which the choir sang with a descant, is a beautiful example of the type of folk carol found in these books.

The last carol the choir sang was a modern international carol, "Mary's Lullaby". Miss Edith Lovell Thomas wrote the words and she harmonized the music from a little Japanese melody.

The choir used an arrangement by Arthur B. Jennings.

Ashville Women Hold Annual Workshop, Tea

The severe weather conditions that prevailed Thursday evening did not discourage members of the Ashville Women's Civic Club when they held their Christmas Tea and Workshop at the home of Mrs. Robert Bausum.

Thirty members were in attendance and brought many handmade articles, decorations and baked goods to share their talents and ideas with the other members.

The event was held in the Bausum's recreation room which was decorated with Christmas arrangements and candles. A large table held the workshop items.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "Joy to the World" followed by Mrs. William Trimble with devotions and the singing of another carol.

It was reported that extra shipments of pecans have been ordered so plenty will be available for sale during the holidays.

Rules for the Christmas Home Decorating Contest were explained and also the club's share toward the prize money was announced. The project is being sponsored jointly by both the Civic Club and the Community Club. Mrs. Warren Bastian, chairman of the event, told that judges had been secured from the South-Central Rural Electric Coop. Inc. and will take place 6 to 9 p. m. Dec. 23.

The group discussed contributing to a worthy family or families and a donation to the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital. A committee was appointed to work on this project. Those appointed were Mrs. Roland Featheringham, chairman, Mrs. Jim Courtright and Mrs. Curtis Cromley.

Following the meeting each member explained the item she brought to the workshop, what materials she used, and the cost involved.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated tea table. The Hospitality Committee providing refreshments were Mrs. Joe Brewer, Mrs. Robert Slivinski, Mrs. Tom Purcell, Mrs. Don Flierl, Mrs. Hal Richards and Mrs. James Irwin.

Majors Temple Plans Yule Party

Majors Temple No. 516 will meet 6:30 p. m. Tuesday at Pickaway Arms.

A party and gift exchange will be held following the dinner at the home of Frances Evans, 444 E. Main St.

Tarlton WSCS Holds Meeting

The Tarlton WSCS met in the church social room recently and the meeting was opened with a piano prelude by Mrs. Joe Jenkins.

Mrs. Kenneth Moore was in charge of the devotions, which were centered around the Christmas story. Mrs. Carl Fry read the Scripture and Mrs. Foster Jenne gave readings on the Christmas theme.

Mrs. Fry, president, conducted the business meeting. The report of the calendar committee was read also.

A donation was made to the County Welfare Fund and to a missionary cause in Hong Kong.

A number of the members agreed to have patients at the State Hospital as their secret pals for the coming year. Mrs. Wilson Ross will make the arrangements.

Mrs. David Hartman invited the members to the Tarlton Lutheran Ladies' Aid, 8 p. m. Thursday. There will be a gift exchange.

Members drew names for their secret pals of 1963.

The program consisted of a vocal duet by Mrs. Moore and Miss Ethel Reid and a playlet, "Silver, Second Best." Those who participated in the playlet were Mrs. Albert Spangler, Mrs. John Morrison, Mrs. Richard Rhymer, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Spung.

A gift exchange was held and names of mystery sisters of the past year were revealed.

The tables were beautifully arranged with Christmas decorations.

A covered-dish luncheon was served to 23 members and 14 guests.

Wife Preservers

A well-crumped newspaper is very good for wiping windows dry, as it leaves no lint.

Quick dish: cook halved chicken livers in butter or margarine, add to heated canned meatless tomato spaghetti sauce. Serve the sauce over cooked pasta with a green salad and crusty French bread for a speedy supper.

Mock Hollandaise sauce is usually made by adding egg yolks, lemon juice and cayenne pepper to medium white sauce. This mock sauce is delightful over cooked vegetables. It may also be used for Eggs Benedict.

Hacky Would Love To Leave 'Paradise'

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — "So you are another wicked American imperialist," the Budapest taxi driver said with a wry laugh. "I'd give anything if I could be an imperialist and leave this workers' paradise."

Istvan R., a burly, good natured fellow in his early 40s, had picked this reporter up in front of a Budapest hotel. Just before he dropped me, he invited me to visit his home.

"Pick you up tomorrow night at 7," he said.

Istvan's life is in sharp contrast with that led by the members of Communist Hungary's new privileged class. They live in different worlds.

The worker, for whom communism ostensibly was created, is still waiting for his blessings. On the average, he pays two weeks' wages for a pair of shoes or a month's salary for a suit. He may wait three years for an apartment, despite Hungary's many housing projects.

Members of the elite, on the other hand, are eligible to obtain houses in residential districts in the hills overlooking Budapest. They yet preferential treatment in buying the 6,000 to 7,000 cars imported annually. They can buy French fashions and Western delicacies.

The road to Istvan's apartment led out of brightly lit downtown Budapest to a grimy industrial area. Here workers fought against Russian tanks in 1956.

We turned down a side street littered with discarded building material garbage and empty bottles. Istvan parked in front of an old building, still scarred from the Hungarian revolution.

Up three flights of dimly lit and rickety stairs. Istvan's wife, Ilona offered glasses of barack, a brandy made from apricots, and a pot of weak coffee to thaw the chill.

"It's not much," Istvan said apologetically, "but it is the best coffee I can offer."

The apartment had two small rooms, a bath, and what could be described as a kitchenette for Istvan, his wife and two teenage sons.

Housing, Istvan said, was his least expense—about $12 a month, utilities included. His furniture—a couch, two small tables, a stove, four chairs and two double beds—were duplicates of the shoddy offerings in Budapest stores.

Ilona said it would be impossible for the family to live without pooling Istvan's $55 a month, her $40 earned in a factory, and the $65 earned by the two sons as machinist helpers.

"Sometimes," she said, "I am at my wit's end with worry how we can get the simplest necessities. Pork costs $2.50 a pound, if you find it. There are always shortages of eggs, potatoes, fruit and cheese. And things are so expensive. A television costs $165."

Crime Rate Climbs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati seems to be headed for its worst major crime year since 1937.

This was the gloomy forecast Monday by Martin P. Geygan, assistant superintendent of police records, as he reported an increase in all types of major crime in November. He said the crime rate for the first 11 months this year has been 14.6 per cent greater than in 1961.

Union, Wage Views Sought By Farm Bureau Federation

ATLANTA (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation convention looked to the Kennedy administration today for a possible outline of its views on the issue of extending labor unions and wage standards to agriculture.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz addresses today's convention session on the government's labor policies.

Federation officials said they hoped Wirtz would state the administration's position on efforts of some labor unions to extend organizational efforts to farmers and farm workers.

The farm organization has bitterly opposed such efforts.

Too, they looked to Wirtz for clarification of administration plans on possible broadening of past federal efforts to set farm wage and other employment conditions and standards in connection with government labor recruitment programs.

Convention delegates are considering resolutions which take a strong slap at what policy drafters said was a labor monopoly in this country.

"The concentration of economic power in labor unions permits resort to measures which, if used by any other economic group, would result in drastic antitrust action," the resolutions said.

They put much of the blame on organized labor for what was called a price squeeze on farmers. They said unions as well as business should be subject to antitrust laws.

Meanwhile, Charles B. Shuman, president of the federation, took out after Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman on the latter's plea in a speech at St. Paul, Minn., Tuesday night for farmer approval of a new wheat control program at an upcoming referendum.

The federation opposes wheat controls and will seek to defeat the new program. Freeman said the new program is essential not only for the welfare of producers but for the benefit of government negotiations with the European Common Market on U.S. wheat exports to that area.

"Freeman's talk indicated he is desperate," Shuman said. "He must have found out that farmers don't want his new wheat program. He sees his house of cards falling about him."

Reversing their decisions of Nov. 6, voters in four suburban school districts have approved operating levies for the next five years.

Despite the fact that the special elections required a 55 per cent favorable vote for passage, the levies passed easily in Springfield, Oregon, Washington and Northwood (Ross Twp.) Tuesday.

The Springfield District closed its schools last Wednesday because of lack of funds, and the other districts had said they also might have to close their schools.

A four-mill levy to bring in $500,999 annually, defeated by 48 votes in the Oregon District last month, was approved Tuesday 2-717 - 1,145, a 70.3 per cent favorable vote.

Washington District voters approved a three-mill levy to bring in $441,999 annually by 67.3 per cent. The vote was 3,585 - 1,745.

Springfield voters approved a three-mill levy by 61.8 per cent - 846-523. The levy will bring in $45,000 a year.

Bad weather and general apathy were blamed by election officials for what they considered a light voter turnout in all districts.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's President Kennedy, getting set for his Florida holidays and maybe hoping Santa Claus will be nice to him, when up pop Rep. Wilbur Mills and Sen. Harry Byrd, both of them anti-Santa Claus.

Just a few months ago Kennedy promised a 1963 tax cut for people and corporations to perk up the economy. This week Mills said he can't see any excuse for it and doesn't think the economy has been deteriorating.

For Mills to say this was almost like shooting the old gentleman in the red suit just as he got one foot down the chimney. It also created a problem for Kennedy which he didn't solve in 1962 and may not solve next year.

Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, is chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee which originates all tax legislation.

It was this group, where Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10, which this year bottled up Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. Mills was against it. He, more than any man, frustrated Kennedy on this one.

And Byrd, Virginia Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Finance Committee, says he is against a tax cut so long as government spending exceeds its income. A tax cut might make the deficit greater, at least for a while.

Byrd, who didn't support Kennedy in the 1960 presidential campaign, has opposed many of his programs. Because of his position as chairman of the Finance Committee he is a formidable opponent.

Yet, Kennedy has treated both Mills and Byrd very gently. His gentleness, however, has not been particularly persuasive, although Mills did help him out on other programs.

Kennedy has received a lot of support for his tax-cut proposal, inside and outside his administration. He was backed quickly by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Water Heller, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

The AFL-CIO wants a tax cut next year, just as it did this year. And the highly conservative U.S.

Chamber of Commerce wants a cut. So did Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

Kennedy, unless he decides on an entirely new political strategy, will probably handle Mills and Byrd next year just as he did in the past: no visible arm-twisting, no name-calling.

This all seems to fit in with either the President's way of life or his idea of running the presidency: Avoid making individual enemies or group enemies, if at all possible.

There is a limit to how much this nice and delicate approach to politics will pay off if pursued indefinitely. Kennedy, from all appearances, plans to run for reelection in 1964.

He's going to have to go to the voters with some solid legislative performances, particularly those he made the most to do about, like medical care and a tax cut.

If he gets neither before the 1964 elections he can't complain to the voters that the Republicans blocked him. His Democrats so outnumber the Republicans in Congress they could push anything through if they stuck together.

But they haven't stuck together. Mills and Byrd are prime examples of that. If Kennedy does not get rough with either of them in 1963 or 1964, he probably can expect from them what he got in 1962.

There is no evidence that he'd get more if he did get rough. Yet, since the gentle touch hasn't worked, the rough one might. So far Kennedy has shown no inclination to try it.

The World Today

By James Marlow

TITAN BECOMES OPERATIONAL—The first operational Titan II intercontinental ballistic missile is hoisted into an underground silo 25 miles southwest of Tucson, Ariz. There are 18 such missile sites in the Tucson area.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's President Kennedy, getting set for his Florida holidays and maybe hoping Santa Claus will be nice to him, when up pop Rep. Wilbur Mills and Sen. Harry Byrd, both of them anti-Santa Claus.

Just a few months ago Kennedy promised a 1963 tax cut for people and corporations to perk up the economy. This week Mills said he can't see any excuse for it and doesn't think the economy has been deteriorating.

For Mills to say this was almost like shooting the old gentleman in the red suit just as he got one foot down the chimney. It also created a problem for Kennedy which he didn't solve in 1962 and may not solve next year.

Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, is chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee which originates all tax legislation.

It was this group, where Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10, which this year bottled up Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. Mills was against it. He, more than any man, frustrated Kennedy on this one.

And Byrd, Virginia Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Finance Committee, says he is against a tax cut so long as government spending exceeds its income. A tax cut might make the deficit greater, at least for a while.

Byrd, who didn't support Kennedy in the 1960 presidential campaign, has opposed many of his programs. Because of his position as chairman of the Finance Committee he is a formidable opponent.

Yet, Kennedy has treated both Mills and Byrd very gently. His gentleness, however, has not been particularly persuasive, although Mills did help him out on other programs.

Kennedy has received a lot of support for his tax-cut proposal, inside and outside his administration. He was backed quickly by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Water Heller, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

The AFL-CIO wants a tax cut next year, just as it did this year. And the highly conservative U.S.

Wilmington Engineer To Head State Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Frank H. Thatcher of Wilmington, the Clinton County engineer, is the new president of the County Engineers Association of Ohio. He succeeds A. Leonard Opydke, Williams county engineer.

Other officers named at the association's annual convention include Reed Ours of Marion County, first vice president; Bruce Weaver of Trumbull County, second vice president; Argyle J. Moon of Wyandot County, re-elected secretary, and Henry T. McCrady of treasurer.

NOTICE OF ELECTION
The regular annual meeting of stockholders of the Third National Bank of Circleville, Ohio, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors for the ensuing year and such other business as properly come before said stockholders meeting, will be held at the office of the Third National Bank of Circleville, Ohio, on Tuesday, January 8, 1963, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Union, Wage Views Sought By Farm Bureau Federation

ATLANTA (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation convention looked to the Kennedy administration today for a possible outline of its views on the issue of extending labor unions and wage standards to agriculture.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz addresses today's convention session on the government's labor policies.

Federation officials said they hoped Wirtz would state the administration's position on efforts of some labor unions to extend organizational efforts to farmers and farm workers.

The farm organization has bitterly opposed such efforts.

Too, they looked to Wirtz for clarification of administration plans on possible broadening of past federal efforts to set farm wage and other employment conditions and standards in connection with government labor recruitment programs.

Convention delegates are considering resolutions which take a strong slap at what policy drafters said was a labor monopoly in this country.

"The concentration of economic power in labor unions permits resort to measures which, if used by any other economic group, would result in drastic antitrust action," the resolutions said.

They put much of the blame on organized labor for what was called a price squeeze on farmers. They said unions as well as business should be subject to antitrust laws.

Meanwhile, Charles B. Shuman, president of the federation, took over after Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman on the latter's plea in a speech at St. Paul, Minn., Tuesday night for farmer approval of a new wheat control program at an upcoming referendum.

The federation opposes wheat controls and will seek to defeat the new program. Freeman said the new program is essential not only for the welfare of producers but for the benefit of government negotiations with the European Common Market on U.S. wheat exports to that area.

"Freeman's talk indicated he is desperate," Shuman said. "He must have found out that farmers don't want his new wheat program. He sees his house of cards falling about him."

School Levies Are Passed on Second Try

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Reversing their decisions of Nov. 6, voters in four suburban school districts have approved operating levies for the next five years.

Despite the fact that the special elections required a 55 per cent favorable vote for passage, the levies passed easily in Springfield, Oregon, Washington and Northwood (Ross Twp.) Tuesday.

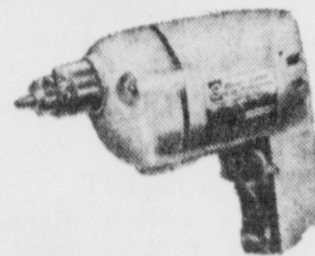

The Springfield District closed its schools last Wednesday because of lack of funds, and the other districts had said they also might have to close their schools.

A four-mill levy to bring in $500,999 annually, defeated by 48 votes in the Oregon District last month, was approved Tuesday 2-717 - 1,145, a 70.3 per cent favorable vote.

Washington District voters approved a three-mill levy to bring in $441,999 annually by 67.3 per cent. The vote was 3,585 - 1,745.

Springfield voters approved a three-mill levy by 61.8 per cent - 846-523. The levy will bring in $45,000 a year.

Bad weather and general apathy were blamed by election officials for what they considered a light voter turnout in all districts.

Actress Now Has Greater Yen For Houses, Shuns Diamonds

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Don't you believe that diamonds are a girl's best friend, says Elsa Martinelli. Houses are.

She should know. She has five of them. She used to have six, but sold one because the neighborhood was depreciating.

Elsa is the Italian doll with an affinity for wild animals. At least that has been the story of her recent film career. She was the magazine photographer in "Hattari," which put her in proximity with all kinds of beasts.

Now she's in "Rampage" with Robert Mitchum and various cats, such as tigers, jaguars, etc. Strange company for a girl who was one of Europe's most successful fashion models. But she doesn't mind, especially since the returns may provide her with another house.

"I now have three in Paris and two in Rome," she said between scenes. "I had another in Rome, but the area is building up all around it. When that happens here, property values go up. That is not true in Italy."

How did she get on a house-buying jag?

"You have to do something with your money, and houses are as good an investment as any," she explained. "Besides, decorating is my hobby. I buy houses that are run-down and fix them up for rental. I keep one in Paris and one in Rome for myself."

What about buying some here? "Not practical. It would be too hard for me to call from Europe if a house here needed a plumber. But if I should be here a couple of years to make movies, then I might consider it."

Despite her fondness for real estate, she isn't single-minded about it. "You've got to diversify your investments," she reasoned. "I also have money in other things, including American stocks. Blue chip, of course."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 12, the 346th day of 1962. There are 19 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1758, the French began the unsuccessful siege of Madras in India. The siege lasted for over two months and dealt a serious blow to French power in India.

On this day: In 1642, New Zealand was discovered by the Dutch navigator, Abel Tasman.

In 1787, Pennsylvania became the second state to ratify the United States Constitution.

In 1895, the Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a law passed the previous year levying taxes on incomes of more than $4,000.

In 1937, Japanese bombing planes sank the U.S. gunboat Panay in the Yangtze River.

In 1954, the United States opposed Greek efforts to end British sovereignty on Cyprus.

Today's birthdays: Former boxing champion Henry Armstrong is 50. English dramatist John Osborne is 33.

Thought for today: Reputation is an idle and most false imposition; often got without merit, and lost without deserving.—Shakespeare.

Employment Record Set in November

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reported Tuesday the number of workers on non-farm payrolls was 56.2 million in November, a record for any November.

The figure represents a drop of about 100,000 from October, but is 1.2 million higher than in November 1961, the former record for the month.

The American United Jewish Appeal has been credited with raising $1,435,000,000 to aid Israel during the last 24 years.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER NINE THE GIRAFFES WEAR HATS

Mr. Shnoo rushed to the bird cage. It was empty. A large pane of glass in the ceiling had been broken and the curious birds had escaped one by one.

Sending for workmen, Mr. Shnoo ordered them to repair the glass at once. Then he and the attendants snatched up nets and sacks of feed and went out to hunt for the birds.

A pigmy owl was found fast asleep, perched on the zebra cage. He was easily captured and returned to the cage. Mr. Shnoo spied several peacocks strolling down the penguin's walk. He spread a trail of seed and coaxed them back to their cage. The flamingoes, their pink feathers fluffed by the wind, were found huddled on the steps of the elephant house. They were very glad to follow Mr. Shnoo back home.

But when all these creatures were back in the cage there were hundreds of small birds still missing. They had flown to the tops of the highest trees where they sat shivering with cold and fright. Mr. Shnoo and his men climbed the trees but no sooner would they reach out with nets than off the birds would flutter to another branch.

Ladders were brought but when they were raised they only frightened the nervous birds off to entirely different trees.

The men got a huge net and held it under a tree. The stoniest men climbed up the trunk and shook the branches with all their might. But not even one small bird fell into the net.

Mr. Shnoo did not know what to do next. He knew that if the birds stayed outdoors a little longer they would freeze. He beat his hands together and rubbed his head and tried to think what he might do.

Crookshank came along and shook his head at the sight of the birds in the trees. "How unfortunate to lose them just before the visit of the Queen," said he.

"It's not the Queen I care about," retorted Mr. Shnoo. "It's the birds themselves!" he went off under the trees, biting his lip and pulling his ear and twisting

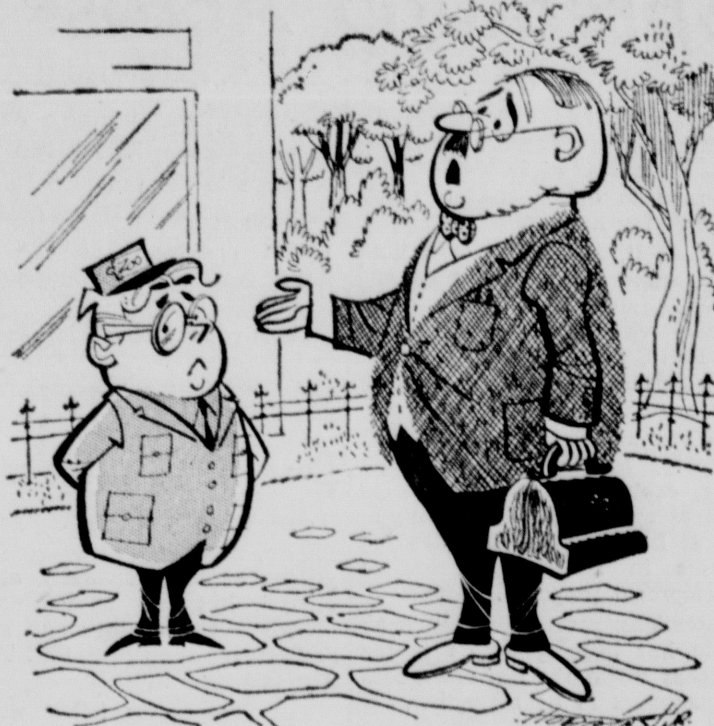

Court Will Decide If Titles Differ

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There's a difference between psychiatry and psychoogy and a Columbus psychiatrist has filed a $35,000 suit to prove it.

Dr. Ivan G. Podobnikar took his problem to Franklin County Common Pleas Court today in a suit against the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. because the telephone book lists him as psychologist rather than a psychiatrist.

He states he recently opened a new office in the general practice of psychiatry and was listed by the phone company as a psychologist. Dr. Podobnikar claims the improper listing has caused him to suffer "scorn, jest . . . from the medical profession . . . and loss to his business because patients are unable to accurately contact him."

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

his mouth until suddenly he knew what he had to do.

He rushed off to the bear cages and slipped into the brown bears' cave. Honeybun, snoozing there, woke up and gave him a big bear hug. Mr. Shnoo said, "Excuse me, Honeybun, I haven't time to play right now." He pushed her gently away. Then he shut his eyes and stood on his head and wiggled his toes and said "Selbuort Gnippop!" three times.

He got back on his feet and looked around. There was only Honeybun sitting back on her haunches with her jaws wide open to show off her dinosaur teeth. Mr. Shnoo was too upset to praise her as she wished. He slipped out of the cave and looked all around but there was no one there. Only bears.

Mr. Shnoo was terribly disappointed. He hadn't known exactly what to expect but he had been pretty sure Santa Claus would appear as soon as he had said the magic words.

As he went back to the birds he thought, "All is lost! They won't last another hour." The zoo doctor was there and he agreed that things looked bad. "Even if we could get them now," he said, "They will have terrible colds and could not last."

They all stood about feeling sad and helpless. Suddenly one of the men shouted and pointed down the road. "Look yonder! The giraffes are out!"

They all turned and stared. Here came Herbert and Louise ambling down the road. They had baskets of straw strapped on their backs and on the tops of their heads they wore enormous round hats tilted between their ears.

"The zoo is haunted!" exclaimed one of the men. "First the bear, then the birds, now the giraffes wearing hats. There's trouble everywhere!"

Mr. Shnoo said, "Excuse me, Honeybun, I haven't time to play right now." He pushed her gently away. Then he shut his eyes and stood on his head and wiggled his toes and said "Selbuort Gnippop!" three times.

He got back on his feet and looked around. There was only Honeybun sitting back on her haunches with her jaws wide open to show off her dinosaur teeth. Mr. Shnoo was too upset to praise her as she wished. He slipped out of the cave and looked all around but there was no one there. Only bears.

Mr. Shnoo was terribly disappointed. He hadn't known exactly what to expect but he had been pretty sure Santa Claus would appear as soon as he had said the magic words.

As he went back to the birds he thought, "All is lost! They won't last another hour." The zoo doctor was there and he agreed that things looked bad. "Even if we could get them now," he said, "They will have terrible colds and could not last."

They all stood about feeling sad and helpless. Suddenly one of the men shouted and pointed down the road. "Look yonder! The giraffes are out!"

They all turned and stared. Here came Herbert and Louise ambling down the road. They had baskets of straw strapped on their backs and on the tops of their heads they wore enormous round hats tilted between their ears.

"The zoo is haunted!" exclaimed one of the men. "First the bear, then the birds, now the giraffes wearing hats. There's trouble everywhere!"

Court Will Decide If Titles Differ

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There's a difference between psychiatry and psychoogy and a Columbus psychiatrist has filed a $35,000 suit to prove it.

Dr. Ivan G. Podobnikar took his problem to Franklin County Common Pleas Court today in a suit against the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. because the telephone book lists him as psychologist rather than a psychiatrist.

He states he recently opened a new office in the general practice of psychiatry and was listed by the phone company as a psychologist. Dr. Podobnikar claims the improper listing has caused him to suffer "scorn, jest . . . from the medical profession . . . and loss to his business because patients are unable to accurately contact him."

SNOWBOUND—The Cleveland area snow, two feet in some areas, left this car deep under a drift in Parma, some of whose residents call it the "Southern Sunroom of Cleveland."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Bitterly cold air chilled Ohio Tuesday night as temperatures plunged to below zero in most communities.

Combined with the extreme cold were occasional snow flurries, and at times the snow on the ground was sparkled with falling ice crystals.

Temperatures near daybreak today included Toledo and Findlay 8 below, Cleveland 2 above, Zanesville and Chesapeake 3 below and Columbus 1 below.

There will be little relief from the cold either today, tonight or Thursday as the Arctic air remains well-entrenched over the Midwest.

A few snow flurries are likely today with additional accumulation restricted to the snowbound counties in Northeastern Ohio. Sub-zero temperatures are likely again tonight.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS
NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average 15 to 18 degrees below normal. Normal high 33-39, normal low 20-26. Slight moderation of temperatures Thursday, but bitter cold again Friday or Saturday. Slow warming trend early next week. Precipitation will average two-tenths to three-tenths of an inch melted near Lake Erie and about one-tenth inch melted inland from the lake as daily snow flurries until Sunday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average 14 to 18 degrees below normal. Normal high 37-45, normal low 24-28. Slow warming trend beginning Thursday, a little colder over weekend, then warmer first of week. Precipitation will average about one-tenth inch in snow or snow flurries about Friday.

Youth Is Placed On Probation in Fatal Shooting

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 16-year-old Middletown youth has been placed on probation for delinquency in the accidental shotgun death of his girl friend.

Judy Blevins, 16, of Middletown was shot fatally Nov. 26.

The boy, Bernard Charles James, pleaded guilty to the delinquency charge Tuesday in Butler County Domestic Relations Court. He told the court he pointed the shotgun — which he thought was empty — at Miss Blevins to scare her because she had locked him out of his car. The shotgun discharged, killing her.

The incident occurred as James was taking Miss Blevins and two other youths home after classes at Middletown High School. He said he left the car to let another passenger, a girl, get out.

Police said the other two teenagers' descriptions of the tragedy matched that given by James.

New Cleveland Low
CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland broke a 45-year-old record at 5:15 a.m. today when the temperature swooped to one degree below zero. The previous cold record set in 1917 was 2.2 degrees for Dec. 12.

The slow-growing lichen is virtually indestructible. Some lichen colonies may be more than a thousand years old. Two distinct organisms, a fungus and an alga, combine to form the plant. Algae supply carbohydrates by photosynthesis; fungi provide salts and water storage.

Ohio Democratic Boss Shuns Sen. Young's Fiery Demand

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman retort to the demands of U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, that he resign is "There will be no vacancy" in his post until his term expires in 1964.

Coleman, who maintains an attorney's office here and resides in nearby Milford Center, told the Springfield Sun in an interview he will not bow out.

Coleman, severely criticized by Young, said he agrees with a remark attributed to U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, to the effect that "a combination of James A. Farley, Harry S. Truman, Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy" could not have saved Ohio for the Democrats in 1962.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who leaves office Jan. 14 a victim of the Republican landslide, and other principals say that since Coleman was elected for a two-year term as state party chairman last May 6, he cannot be ousted.

"If Sen. Young has healthy suggestions for the party we will be glad to review them with him," Coleman told the Springfield news paper.

"Public arguments gain nothing," Coleman said, adding he is "not interested in fighting Democrats."

Coleman noted that Young criticized Democratic defeats in Ohio in 1960 and 1962 while talking about the "great victory of 1938."

"Perhaps," Coleman commented, "he is not mindful that the victory came under the same chairman."

The state chairman went on:

"Too many factors enter into the success and failure of a political campaign. To find a scapegoat is not realistic . . .

"There is today more party organization than ever before in Ohio history," Coleman said. "I never heard of more people working together in a more systematized operation than in 1962."

"Our party has absorbed losses before. Despite the Nov. 6 defeat, there is a great deal of optimism on the part of party members and workers. These people know what kind of shape the party is in with reference to the past and the future."

"There is optimism, and these persons do not share Sen. Young's views."

State Tax Official To Address Rotary

Ernest A. Grabel of the Ohio Department of Taxation will be guest speaker when the Circleville Rotary Club meets Thursday for its regular noon meeting.

Grabel is a chief attorney in the department's division of inheritance tax. His subject will be "State Inheritance Tax Problems."

The session will be conducted at the BPO Elks Home.

OU Television Near

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University's educational television station, WOUBTV, will begin telecasting audio and video test signals Dec. 17 and actual broadcasting programs on Thursday, Jan. 3. At 7 p.m. that date the first program will be a documentary, "The Building of a TV Station."

College Visits for Executives Spreading Across Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert S. Bell already had a bachelor's degree and a law degree. Nevertheless, in 1955 when he was 40, Bell returned to the campus one day a week for a year.

To do it, he had to take time from numerous business and civic activities, for Bell was executive vice president of Packard-Bell Corp., an electronics firm with 1962 sales of about $50 million.

"When an executive is through learning, he's dead," Bell said later, explaining his two-semester stint at the University of California at Los Angeles. He attended classes in a special executive development program.

Something resembling Bell's attitude has been going on in the business world the last few years and appears to be spreading.

In one of its most dramatic expressions, David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, suggested periodic management leaves for high-level executives, perhaps every seventh year.

Speaking to the American Philosophical Society, Rockefeller, a brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, lamented the continuing division of society, especially the business world, into compartments.

The result, he said was a stultifying communications gap in a decade of extremely rapid social and scientific change.

"We cannot afford to flounder in a communications vacuum while science and technology . . . reshape our world," he said. To a point, much business thinking across the country is in tune with Rockefeller's thesis.

However, many executives express doubts about the wisdom of sabbaticals of from a full semester to a year.

This year about 3,000 executives were sent to university-sponsored, in-residence executive development programs lasting two weeks or more in the United States and Canada. Roughly 50 colleges, universities, institutes and associations gave such comprehensive programs.

His Tough Test

Due on Thursday

CINCINNATI (AP) — Stanley Shafer, 20, who says he gets good grades at the University of Cincinnati, has two exams coming up today and another one Thursday. He'd better pass that Thursday test.

The two exams today will be at the university, but the one Thursday will be before Traffic Court Judge Robert V. Wood.

Shafer was brought into court Tuesday on a charge of driving 75 miles an hour in a 35-m.p.h. zone. After questioning Shafer about being a student, Judge Wood handed the young man a traffic code book and directed him to return for a quiz on its provisions.

"Your sentence will depend on how well you learn your lessons," Judge Wood said.

Draft Call Is 4,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon has announced a February draft quota of 4,000 men and said all will be assigned to the Army.

Higher calls probably will start in March, a Defense Department spokesman said Monday. The February figure is the same as the one for January. And, once again, the Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps do not intend to draw on selective service.

ing, labor relations and the like heavily accented many offerings.

Exactly what benefits are reaped from these programs?

Like many corporations, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, which has sent more than 1,600 executives back to school in the past 15 years, couldn't pinpoint them.

"It's very difficult to appraise precisely," said H. P. Schoeck, Jersey Standard director of executive organization and development.

"The real value is not so much the subject matter as in the informal rubbing of shoulders with men from very different businesses, from labor, the academic world, the military and government."

Robert Mitchell, a vice president of Mattell, Inc., Hawthorne, Calif., toy manufacturer, said most of its middle and senior executives have gone through the UCLA program attended by Bell.

"I think there's some connection between our educational philosophy and the company's growth," Mitchell said.

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Arraignment of Anthony Bush, operator of the Sun 'n Fun Discount Center on Ohio 46 south of here, on a charge of violating Ohio's Sunday closing law has been continued in Municipal Court to Dec. 27.

Bush was cited after Ashtabula County Sheriff's deputies said they had made purchases at the store on Sunday, Dec. 2, as evidence.

A total of $131.50 in prize money will be awarded residents of the village of Ashville in the Christmas Home Decorating Contest, sponsored jointly by the Ashville Community Club and the Ashville Women's Civic Club.

Everyone in the community is asked to decorate their home to make the Christmas spirit brighter throughout the holidays. Judging will take place Sunday evening, Dec. 23 between 6 and 9 p. m. Judges have been obtained from the South-Central Rural Electric Coop. Inc.

The judges have announced that they will base their judging on the following merits: design and confirmation; use of color; lighting effect; and development of theme. A maximum of five points can be awarded in any of the four breakdowns.

An entry blank must be filled in and returned no later than Thursday, Dec. 20 to Mrs. Robert Knode, 330 Peggy Lane, Ashville. If an entry blank can't be secured you may put the necessary information on a post card and mail to Mrs. Knode. You must state your name, address, and the class you wish to enter.

The classes and prize money are as follows: Best Overall Decorated Home, first, $20; second, $15; and third, $10; Best Decorated Entrance (Door), first, $15; second, $7.50; and third, $3.25; Best Decorated Lamp Post, first, $10; second, $5; and third, $2.50; and Best Decorated Window, first, $10; second, $5; and third, $2.50; and Best Decorated Outside Christmas Tree, first, $15; second, $7.50; and third, $3.25.

Boundaries of the contest are Circleville Ave. to the East; Route 752 to the North; a line from Cromley Road, north to Route 752, to the West; and Main Street to the South.

Rules are that an entry blank or post card must be mailed to the above address. Only one class can be entered by each resident, no professional decorating allowed, and that members of both the Civic Club and Community Club are eligible to enter.

Members of the Ashville Methodist Fellowship Class have been asked to meet at the church Friday evening, after 7 p. m., to decorate the church throughout with Christmas decorations.

The previously scheduled Family Pot Luck Supper that was scheduled for Dec. 19 has been cancelled due to the Christmas Program that will be held in the church that evening.

Refreshments will be served by the committee Friday evening, following the decorating.

The Ashville PTA is scheduled to meet at the Ashville School Thursday evening Dec. 20 at 7:30 p. m. The program will consist of special music from all of the grades, under the direction of Mrs. Janet Howk and Everett Mehrely. Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening.

This Thursday evening at 8 p. m. the Teays Valley High School Music Department will once again present their play "Swingin' High" in the TV auditorium at 8 p. m. under the direction of Miss Mary Jo Gaskalla.

The lyrical comedy was first presented Nov. 31 and has been requested by many that it be repeated. If you failed to miss the first performance you will want to attend this one. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Ashville Brownie Troop No. 238 held its weekly meeting at the Ashville Methodist Church with 19 girls present and their two leaders, Mrs. Chester Peters and Mrs. Archie Stewart.

The girls finished the gifts that they were making for their mothers for Christmas and have started a gift for their fathers.

Ashville Girl Scout Troop No. 638 is having a Christmas Candy Sale, featuring home made candies, this Saturday at Bastian's Coffee Shop, starting at 9 a. m.

The Ashville Methodist Church School Christmas Program will be presented Wednesday Evening, Dec. 19 at 7:30 p. m. in the church. The Junior Choir, under the direction of William Pangburn, will take part. A social hour will follow in the basement and a visit from Santa Claus.

Investment services for new members joining Ashville Girl Scout Troop No. 253 were held Monday evening at the Ashville Evangelical United Brethren Church. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Robert Sliwinski and Mrs. Don Welsh.

The girls conducted the entire service, under the direction of their patrol leader, Brenda Baum, as follows: Presentation of colors by the following members of the color guard, Carole Sherman, Margie Watson, and Linda Piester; the reading of the Girl Scout Laws by the following girls, Susan Sabine, Jody Deal, Carla Hafey, Margie Watson, Jane Clay, Debbie Flowers, Mary McMellon, Carol Sherman, Linda Piester, and Bonnie Peters. Retha Gloyd gave the Girl Scout motto. As each girl entered she carried a lighted candle.

New troop members being investigated were Christ Kuliya, Carole Lombardo, Beverly Noody, and Linda Noggle. As they were introduced Mrs. Welsh presented them their Girl Scout Pin and Retha Gloyd gave them a candle which in turn was lighted from a troop members candle.

The new girls then joined the circle and all together repeated the Girl Scout Promise and closed with the singing of "Girl Scouts Together".

The girls then served their mothers cake, nuts, and punch from a decorated tea table.

The Ashville Women's Civic Club once again is selling goods from the "Work of the Blind" in conjunction with the Ohio Federation of Women's Club.

This is a public service being done by the club like other clubs all over the state of Ohio, with no profit being received. All intake of the money is given to the "Work of the Blind" housed in Columbus. These articles make nice Christmas gifts and may be seen at Mary's Beauty Salon, 30 Long St. The household brooms, that the blind people are so famous for making, are on display also.

An old-fashioned sledding party, wood cutting, and taffy-pull was enjoyed Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal Jr., Jim, Jody, and Jan.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bisker, Cheryl, Linda, and Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bastian, Jay, Dean and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tosca, Gary and Sally, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal Sr.

Harry Welsh of South Bloomfield has been ill and under a doctor's care at his home for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neal 5028 Cook Road, Ashville are parents of a son born Monday at 8 a. m. in Berger Hospital. The baby weighed six pounds 10 ounces and has been named William Howard.

The Ashville-Harrison Volunteer Fire Department answered a call Thursday, Dec. 6 at 5:45 p. m. where they extinguished a trash fire at the Ashville Lumber Co. No loss resulted.

The firemen will be sacking candy Monday evening, Dec. 17 at the fire house for the distribution by Santa Claus when he makes his visit to town on the night of Dec. 21.

The Ashville First English Lutheran Church are planning their Church School Christmas Program, Sunday evening, Dec. 23 at 7:30 p. m. A social hour will follow.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: Thursday, Dec. 6 took Neil Leatherwood to Riverside Methodist Hospital; and William Penn to Berger Hospital; and Friday, Dec. 7 took L. B. Daley to Berger Hospital.

Young Hero Acts Quickly To Save Two

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — A 19-year-old Newport youth rescued a teen-aged girl and a small boy from an icy lake at Ft. Thomas Tuesday and then had to be pulled to safety.

Hero of the incident was Clyde Bishop Jr., son of a Newport policeman.

He and Karen Burkhardt, 17, of Southgate had gone to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Steffen at Cold Spring to pick up the girl's nephews, Mark Steffen, 5, and Craig, 3. They had planned to take them to Cincinnati to see Santa Claus.

On the way, they stopped to see a Nativity scene and then went to a nearby lake where Karen had skated. Karen and Craig walked out on the ice, followed by Clyde and Mark.

The ice suddenly broke and Karen and the smaller boy plunged into 10 feet of water. Young Bishop then jumped in, grabbed Karen, who could not swim and pushed her out on the solid ice. He had to dive into the water four times before he found Craig and pushed him out to Karen.

Bishop then was unable to get out of the hole in the ice and Karen's screams brought George Messmer, 52, and his brother, Robert, 29, to the scene. They pushed an aluminum boat into the break in the ice and Bishop was pulled to safety.

All three were taken to St. Luke Hospital in Ft. Thomas where they were treated for shock and exposure.

structors would be held at Lancaster on Dec. 28. Trainees must be able to swim and over 18 years old. For further information Collins should be contacted.

Benis Lutz, assuming president for the new year, beginning in January, has announced his committees for the new year: Boys and Girls Work, Roland Featheringham, chairman, Robert Sliwinski, and Dorwin Hay.

Vocational Guidance: William Wharton, chairman, Robert Knode, and Russell Gregg; Agriculture and Conservation, Harold Richard, chairman, Don Courtwright, and Donald Hedges; Public and Business Affairs, Guy Leatherwood, chairman, and Gail Leatherwood.

Support of Churches and Spiritual Aims, John Little, chairman, Gerald Riegel, and John Rinehart; Attendance and Membership, Claude Kraft, chairman, and David Kraft; Finance, Robert Glick, chairman, and Gene Von-Ins; House and Reception, William Fortner, chairman, and E. R. Gregg; Inter-club Relations, Warren Bastian;

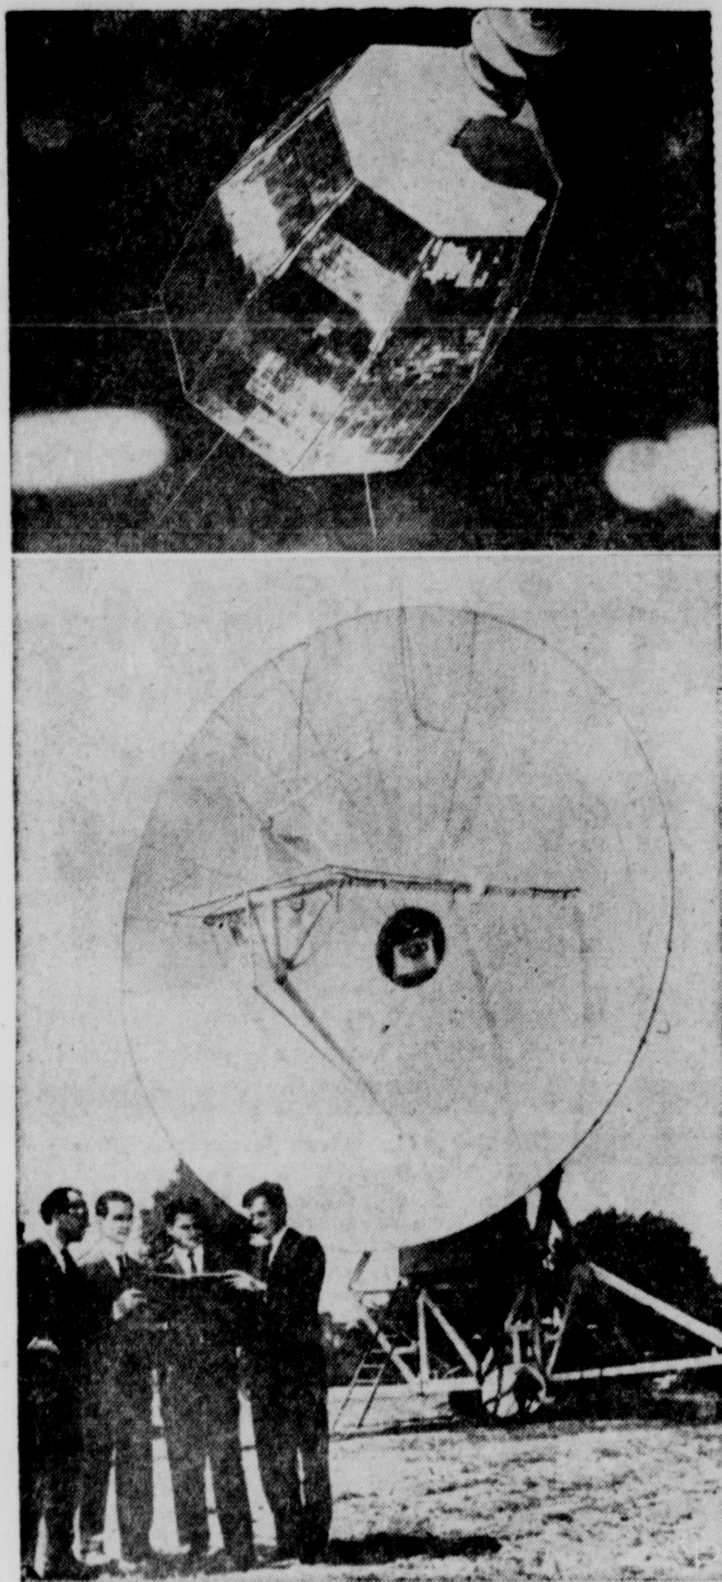

Education and Fellowship, Donald Collins, chairman, William Sherertz, and Herbert Seymour; Program and Music, Howard Hosler, chairman, Seibert Duvall, and Gene Tosca; and Public Relations, V. Dayton Sheets, chairman, and Charles Morrison.

Other newly elected officers for the new year are Seibert Duvall, first vice-president; Howard Hosler, second vice-president; Charles Morrison, secretary; and Robert Glick, treasurer.

The Ashville Girl Scout Neighborhood Association will meet Thursday evening, at 7:30 p. m. in the Ashville Methodist Church. All leaders and troop committee members are asked to be on hand. Mrs. Carolyn Moore, District VII supervisor will meet with the group.

A schedule for the different circle meetings of the First English Lutheran Church for the coming week is as follows: Monday the Lydia Circle will meet at the church at 7:30 p. m. and the Hannah Circle will meet at Mrs. Felix Dore's home. Wednesday the Ruth Circle will meet at the church at 8 p. m. and Thursday the Mary Martha Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Harold Bowers in the afternoon at 1:30 p. m.

Community Club members are urged to help Saturday morning to erect the Christmas tree in the downtown area. Members are asked to meet at Main and Long Streets at 9:30 a. m.

NEW SATELLITE TO REPLACE DEAD TELSTAR—A new radio Relay station (top) is to be launched from Cape Canaveral the evening of Dec. 13, to replace America's dead Telstar communications satellite. Relay is to restore the spectacular communications link that died with Telstar—live television transmission between North America and Europe—and also bring South America into the picture with a new station at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. In the lower photo, four Brazilian engineers stand before part of the ground equipment.

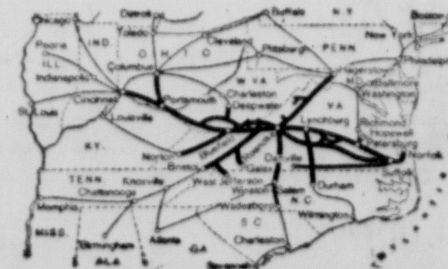

Why "Mr. Million" reads out-of-date newspapers, too

You'll see him sitting quietly in a public library. Leafing through back issues of your local newspaper. And you'd never dream that he was considering your town for a new million-dollar industrial plant.

But "Mr. Million" knows how important a town's record of progress can be in selecting a plant site. He wants to know if new schools, roads, public works have been built. If the community supports industrialization and would welcome new factories . . . if, over the years, labor-management relations have been good or bad. The answers to questions like these, obtained from old newspapers, clearly reveal whether a community is sufficiently progressive to be considered as a site for a new plant.

You can't rewrite old newspapers. But you can help make good news by supporting progressive projects, working for civic improvements, taking an active part in industrial development. Help your town increase its reputation as an alert, forward-looking community . . . the kind that attracts new plants and with them more jobs, greater prosperity.

Katanga Squeeze Sought by Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Secretary-General U Thant calls on the United States, Britain and Belgium today to start applying an economic squeeze to the Congo breakaway province of Katanga.

The United States and Belgium were said to have assured Thant they would go as far as a boycott of Katanga's rich copper and cobalt exports if he feels it necessary to bring Katanga President Moise Tshombe into line.

However, informants said Britain has told the secretary-general it is unwilling to go along with sanctions or other steps that could be viewed as applying force against the province.

Britain has argued that sanctions against Katanga could bring economic disaster to the rest of the Congo and defeat Thant's plan to reunite the divided country.

Thant apparently was determined to carry out his threat despite Britain's stand. He is said to have been bolstered by expressions of support from U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost and Ambassador Walter Lorian of Belgium.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak warned in Brussels Tuesday night of the possibility of new fighting. He said that unless Tshombe takes a "decisive step" which was asked from him, sanctions, very tough sanctions will then be taken.

As a first step Thant will seek to halt air traffic into Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, set up blocks on rail lines and cut off mail and telecommunication links.

Belgium is being asked to pull out about 700 Belgian technicians who play a vital role in the province.

The secretary-general wants Katanga to rejoin the Congo under a federal constitution and a 50-50 split with Leopoldville of the $40 million in annual revenues the European-owned Union Miniere combine now pays Katanga.

If Tshombe still resists, Thant will ask member states to ban imports of Katanga's copper and cobalt.

Honored for 15 Years Service

Special recognition was given Monday to Miss Regina Thornton, 160½ W. Mound St., who recently completed 15 years of service with the Federal Government.

Miss Thornton, clerk of the local Selective Service Board, was presented a pin and certificate by Mayor Sinclair Russell Jr. and Mrs. Louise Druggan, representing Selective Service headquarters at Columbus.

Miss Thornton has been employed by the local board for the past 12 years. Prior to that time she was associated with government ordnance work in Columbus.

Labor Vote Dec. 19

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two unions will vie for designation as the collective bargaining agency for 116 employees of the Hermann Manufacturing Co. of Lancaster in a National Labor Relations Board election on Dec. 19.

The NLRB said the production and maintenance employees will vote on whether to be represented by the American Flint Glass Workers Union of North America (AFL-CIO), by the United Automobile Workers (AFL-CIO) or by neither union.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two unions will vie for designation as the collective bargaining agency for 116 employees of the Hermann Manufacturing Co. of Lancaster in a National Labor Relations Board election on Dec. 19.

The NLRB said the production and maintenance employees will vote on whether to be represented by the American Flint Glass Workers Union of North America (AFL-CIO), by the United Automobile Workers (AFL-CIO) or by neither union.

Guard Chiefs Differ in Views

Some Favor Pentagon Plan, Others Oppose

WASHINGTON (AP)—The men who command the Army National Guard in the states appeared today to be in reluctant retreat before an unrelenting Pentagon drive to streamline the guard.

Although the states' adjutants general maintained an outwardly solid front, they were split several ways after a two-day meeting here.

Some of the state guard chiefs indicated they could live with the plan proposed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Army.

Others called it "totally unacceptable," but did not say they would hold out against it.

Some, apparently in the minority, spoke well of the plan in private, but they wouldn't say so for the record.

The adjutants general convened Monday for the purpose of drafting some kind of recommendation to the governors. Every state except Alaska was represented.

Maj. Gen. Loren Windom, Ohio's adjutant general and commander of the 37th Infantry Division, said in an interview that the troop list proposed for Ohio was not acceptable.

Windom said Ohio would lose 13 company size units and seven or eight armories. However, he said that if a long-range plan to convert all guard visions to brigade structure were implemented immediately, this problem could be solved. The plan would provide another 13 units for the 37th Division — just the number Ohio now stands to lose.

SHOT IN BACK—Shot in the back by a youth who tried to drag her into an auto, Anna Zigmie, 20, a nurse's aide, is in fair condition in a Chicago hospital. She was on her way home from work when she was grabbed. The young assailant fled in the car after shooting her when she struggled from his grasp.

Two Witnesses To Appear at Commie Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. attorneys plan to call an FBI informer and a New York newsman today in the trial of the Communist party for refusing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union.

F. Kirk Maddrix of the Justice Department identified the only witnesses in the government's case against the Communist party as Will Lissner of the New York Times and Joseph B. Zoltan, a Hungarian freedom fighter who came to the United States five years ago.

Maddrix said that Zoltan, now cashier of the Commission on Ecumenical Missions and Relations of the United Presbyterian Church in New York, had been an informer for the FBI sometime during his stay in the United States.

The trial of the Communist party opened Tuesday in U.S. District Court with the selection of eight women and four men as jurors. Lawyers for the party succeeded in excluding all government workers from the jury. The defense attorneys contended that government workers, because of their exposure to anti-Communist influence, might be prejudiced against the party.

The party is charged with failing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union—as required by the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950.

If convicted, the party may be fined up to $10,000 each day it refuses to register and provide information about its officers, members, and finances.

Hanna Amendment Decision Now Rests in Hands of Panel

CINCINNATI (AP) — The question of what will happen to the so-called Hanna Amendment which guarantees each Ohio county at least one state representative now rests in the hands of a three-member panel of federal judges.

There was no indication when a decision would be reached, but it probably will take at least a month.

The judges heard oral arguments Tuesday on two suits attacking the amendment on grounds that it deprives city dwellers of adequate representation. The suits were filed in behalf of James D. Nolan of Cleveland and the Cincinnati City Charter Committee.

Before the amendment was adopted in 1903, legislative districts were determined by a formula based on population. If a county did not have enough inhabitants, it was combined with a neighboring county to form one representative district.

Kenneth C. Weinberg of Cleveland, attorney for Nolan, argued that when the amendment was passed it gave new representation to only 10 of Ohio's 88 counties.

But as early as 1910, the number of benefiting counties had doubled, and, at present, 48 counties would lose their representation if the amendment were repealed, Weinberg said.

He declared this meant the vote of a resident in a rural county may be worth 14.5 times more than the vote of a resident of a big-city county.

But William E. Knepper, Columbus, attorney representing the state, disputed this claim.

Knepper asserted 20 counties with 69 per cent of the state's population "actually have the ability to control the House as well as the Senate, if they want to." He said they contain the 22 "prime metropolitan centers" of Ohio.

His list was disputed by attorney for the plaintiffs, who pointed out two of the 20 counties—Belmont and Ross—contain no big cities.

Knepper also argued the plaintiffs had failed to furnish evidence they have been deprived of rights under the "equal protection clause" in the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Since the U.S. Supreme Court ruled last summer that the system of legislative apportionment in Tennessee deprived city people of this "equal protection," suits against state constitutions have been filed in many states.

Knepper also pointed out a move to get rid of the Hanna Amendment was defeated in the 1912 constitutional convention. Since then, Ohio voters have twice turned down proposals to call another convention. The issue will be on the ballot again in 1972, he added.

Besides going to a convention, the apportionment changes could be put before voters through initiative petitions or joint resolution of the legislature, Knepper said.

Jerome Goldman, attorney for the Cincinnati City Charter Committee, countered that attempts to change the apportionment system by these methods have failed.

Goldman said a dozen bills on this subject have been introduced in the legislature since 1929 "and none of them even got out of committee." He added that initiative petition movements failed three times through want of enough signatures—because voters in 48 counties benefit from the amendment and therefore do not want to see it junked.

The arguments were heard by Judge Paul C. Weick, 6th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals, and U.S. District Court Judges John W. Peck of Cincinnati and Carl A. Weinman of Columbus.

Attorneys for both sides will have 20 days after receiving transcripts of Tuesday's session to file final briefs.

One School Levy Approved, One Defeated

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—A levy to provide three additional mills for raising teachers' pay and making other improvements at Triad Local District schools in Champaign County failed in a special election Tuesday. The margin against the resubmitted levy was even greater than in the Nov. 6 election.

In the regular election, the tally

PIKETON, Ohio (AP) — Scioto was 549 against to 441 in favor. In the special election, it was 556 against—and only 195 in favor.

PIKETON, Ohio (AP) — Scioto Valley Local School District will continue to operate after Jan. 1, something of which officials were not certain pending outcome of a special election Tuesday.

A 15-mil operating levy, defeated Nov. 6, was resubmitted and passed easily this time, 1,110-512. Half of the levy is needed to qualify the district for state foundation payments.

Two Drivers Die When Cars Collide

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Two persons were killed today in a two-car crash at the intersection of Jackson and Laskey Roads.

They were Boyd Lively, 20, of Toledo, and Garland Ryan, 24, of Marne, Mich. Both were driving. Police said the Ryan car hit a utility pole after the collision and the impact threw him and a passenger from the car. The passenger was not hurt seriously.

Armco Head Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—Logan T. Johnson, president of the Armco Steel Corp. of Middletown, Ohio, has been appointed deputy chairman of the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank, the Federal Reserve Board announced today.

More Than Tax Cut Is Needed To Boost American Economy

EDITOR'S NOTE—The question of taxes, whether to cut them or leave them alone, dominates much of business thought these days. Will a tax cut stimulate the economy? Can the nation afford tax cuts? This last of three articles, based on a nationwide tour to study the climate of business opinion, explores this vital field.

NEW YORK (AP) — Getting America going again, say many businessmen, is not nearly so easy a matter as merely cutting taxes.

Some, while they feel it must be done, doubt that it would pep things up much.

Others, while they feel it would indeed pep things up, question whether current budgets could stand it.

Interviews with businessmen and business economists across the nation found little agreement on the administration's reported plans to try to reduce taxes on personal and corporate incomes by $10 billion in 1963.

The Kennedy administration thesis is that cutting taxes will generate enough additional business activity to produce enough new tax revenue to replace cuts.

"I can't get it through my head," said H. O. Bercher, president of International Harvester in Chicago, "how you can get more money by cutting revenue."

There's general agreement in principle, however, that taxes are too high in relation to business activity.

Harvard economist John Lintner says, "Present tax rates were fine for the days of the immediate post-war era when pent-up demand threatened to overheat the economy. Then, restraint was needed."

"The economy today," he adds

"is not characterized by excess money."

The case for cutting taxes in the lower brackets is less a matter of incentives and more a matter of expanding basic purchasing power. This is the area cited by the administration and most economists as offering the best lever for moving the economy.

"The great bulk of the people," said Howard M. Packard of A. C. Johnson and Co. of Racine, Wis., "have to scramble to make ends meet."

A Dallas banker said there is little doubt in his mind but that these people would spend almost every additional cent they would retain through tax reductions.

Du Pont economist William H. Shaw estimates, however, that only about half the money freed would be spent in 1963. Also, he said, higher social security taxes taking effect Jan. 1 would tend to mask much of the increase in available spending money. Thus, he doubts there would be a big immediate impact on the economy.

Immediate impact on the economy

Man, Wife Killed As Vehicles Crash

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — James Edward Mura, 21, and his wife, Lucia, 18, of Stow, were killed today when their stalled automobile was struck from the rear by a truck two miles west of the Warren Interchange on the Ohio Turnpike.

The turnpike patrol said the road was clear and the accident in the westbound lane was not as a result of any conditions. The Mura automobile apparently was stalled for mechanical reasons.

The truck was driven by Charles Fosnacht, 37, of Adamstown, Pa., who was not injured.

2 Killed at Crossing

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A car-train collision here late Tuesday took the lives of two Sandusky men. Floran Keel, about 23, driver of the car, and Michael Ouellette, about 28, father of four small children, were killed when a west-bound New York Central passenger train hit their car at the Huron Avenue crossing on the West Side.

Weather Forces Missile Shot Halt

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (AP)—Bad weather forced postponement of an attempt to photograph the stars from above the earth's distorting atmosphere.

The countdown for launching of a huge balloon was stopped Tuesday night because of heavy clouds and high winds in the areas of launch, flight and recovery.

The launching had been scheduled for this morning. Officials of Project Stargazer set the next attempt for Thursday morning.

Two men are to ride the balloon's aluminum gondola to the edge of the earth's atmosphere—up to 87,000 feet.

PIKETON, Ohio (AP)—Scioto Valley Local School District will continue to operate after Jan. 1, something of which officials were not certain pending outcome of a special election Tuesday.

A 15-mill operating levy, defeated Nov. 6, was resubmitted and passed easily this time, 1,110-512. Half of the levy is needed to qualify the district for state foundation payments.

Two Drivers Die When Cars Collide

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Two persons were killed today in a two-car crash at the intersection of Jackson and Laskey Roads.

They were Boyd Lively, 20, of Toledo, and Garland Ryan, 24, of Marne, Mich. Both were driving. Police said the Ryan car hit a utility pole after the collision and the impact threw him and a passenger from the car. The passenger was not hurt seriously.

More Than Tax Cut Is Needed To Boost American Economy

EDITOR'S NOTE—The question of taxes, whether to cut them or leave them alone, dominates much of business thought these days. Will a tax cut stimulate the economy? Can the nation afford tax cuts? This last of three articles, based on a nationwide tour to study the climate of business opinion, explores this vital field.

NEW YORK (AP)—Getting America going again, say many businessmen, is not nearly so easy a matter as merely cutting taxes.

Some, while they feel it must be done, doubt that it would pep things up much.

Others, while they feel it would indeed pep things up, question whether current budgets could stand it.

Interviews with businessmen and business economists across the nation found little agreement on the administration's reported plans to try to reduce taxes on personal and corporate incomes by $10 billion in 1963.

The Kennedy administration thesis is that cutting taxes will generate enough additional business activity to produce enough new tax revenue to replace cuts.

"I can't get it through my head," said H. O. Bercher, president of International Harvester in Chicago, "how you can get more money by cutting revenue."

There's general agreement in principle, however, that taxes are too high in relation to business activity.

Harvard economist John Lintner says, "Present tax rates were fine for the days of the immediate post-war era when pent-up demand threatened to overheat the economy. Then, restraint was needed."

"The economy today," he adds

"is not characterized by excess money."

The case for cutting taxes in the lower brackets is less a matter of incentives and more a matter of expanding basic purchasing power. This is the area cited by the administration and most economists as offering the best lever for moving the economy.

"The great bulk of the people," said Howard M. Packard of A. C. Johnson and Co. of Racine, Wis., "have to scramble to make ends meet."

A Dallas banker said there is little doubt in his mind but that these people would spend almost every additional cent they would retain through tax reductions.

Du Pont economist William H. Shaw estimates, however, that only about half the money freed would be spent in 1963. Also, he said, higher social security taxes taking effect Jan. 1 would tend to mask much of the increase in available spending money. Thus, he doubts there would be a big immediate impact on the economy.

Man, Wife Killed As Vehicles Crash

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—James Edward Mura, 21, and his wife, Lucia, 18, of Stow, were killed today when their stalled automobile was struck from the rear by a truck two miles west of the Warren Interchange on the Ohio Turnpike.

The turnpike patrol said the road was clear and the accident in the westbound lane was not as a result of any conditions. The Mura automobile apparently was stalled for mechanical reasons.

The truck was driven by Charles Fosnocht, 37, of Adamstown, Pa., who was not injured.

2 Killed at Crossing

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A car-train collision here late Tuesday took the lives of two Sandusky men. Floran Keel, about 23, driver of the car, and Michael Ouellette, about 28, father of four small children, were killed when a west-bound New York Central passenger train hit their car at the Huron Avenue crossing on the West Side.

Weather Forces Missile Shot Halt

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (AP)—Bad weather forced postponement of an attempt to photograph the stars from above the earth's distorting atmosphere.

The countdown for launching of a huge balloon was stopped Tuesday night because of heavy clouds and high winds in the areas of launch, flight and recovery.

The launching had been scheduled for this morning. Officials of Project Stargazer set the next attempt for Thursday morning.

Two men are to ride the balloon's aluminum gondola to the edge of the earth's atmosphere—up to 87,000 feet.

TRADING SIGHT FOR POSSIBLE LIFE—Dr. Algernon B. Reese, a New York eye specialist, is going to remove the remaining, cancer-stricken eye of a 19-month-old Scottish girl in an attempt to save her life. The girl, Margaret McKeown, is held by her mother, Mrs. Mary McKeown, as the family arrives at Idlewild Airport, New York. Others are (from left) her father, Matthew, and brothers Frankie, 5, Michael, 4, and Matthew, 8. They arrived by jet.

Little Progress Forthcoming In News Strike at Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Representatives of the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the city's two major newspapers planned to meet again today at 4:30 p.m. in an effort to bring an end to a strike against the papers.

A Guild spokesman said no progress was made in a 2 1/2-hour negotiating session Tuesday in the Federal Mediation Services offices at the Federal Building.

In another effort to end the walkout, Guild representatives met Tuesday night with a civic committee which proposes a truce in the strike until at least Jan. 3. Sitting in on the meeting were representatives of the Cleveland Federation of Labor and craft unions that have contracts with the morning Plain Dealer and afternoon Cleveland Press and News. Following a 2 1/2-hour general session, the groups met separately, but at the insistence of Federal Judge James C. Connell, head of the civic committee, no statements were issued after the meetings.

Teamsters Local 473, which went on strike Nov. 29—one day before the Guild struck—was not represented at the meetings. It accepted the committee's truce since have crossed Guild picket lines to make collections and deliver Christmas gifts to carrier boys.

The strike of 450 Guildsmen affects some 3,000 employees of the two papers. The Teamsters local represents 405 delivery drivers.

Key issues in the Guild strike are job security, union security (union or agency shop) and wages.

Rebel Groups In Argentina Under Fire

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's new air force commander demanded today that his predecessor and a rebel garrison at the jet base of Cordoba surrender or face the onslaught of "overwhelmingly superior force."

Brig. Carlos Conrado Segundo Armanini issued the ultimatum—but without setting a time limit—as harried Argentine government chiefs met far into the night in attempts to find a bloodless solution to the nation's sixth military-political crisis in nine months.

Brig. Cayo Antonio Alsina set up the rebel headquarters at Cordoba, 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, after President Jose Maria Guido fired him Tuesday as air force commander in chief.

Armanini said Alsina had headed a minor group in a conspiracy to overthrow Guido's government and was fired "for this motive among others." Also dismissed was an air force combat commander, Brig. Gilberto Hidalgo Oliva, who was reported under arrest.

Guido has been striving to insure a united military command in support of his government's program of national elections in June. Some military leaders have called for a "democratic dictator-

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

It's Far-Fetched, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly widow. My brother (37) recently lost his fine wife, so I am keeping house for him and his two children. My brother is young enough to find another good woman to be his wife and raise his children. The problem: The married women in this town don't leave him alone. Supposedly respectable married woman, living with their husbands, have called him up at two in the morning and begged him to meet them somewhere. I couldn't believe it until he had me listen in on the extension. Four of them are on his trail. How can a decent man find a decent single woman when the married one throw themselves at him?

CONCERNED SISTER
DEAR CONCERNED: No woman will call a man at two in the morning and beg him to meet her somewhere unless she has had some encouragement. (One might but not four!) There are plenty of decent widows and single women around. Your brother hasn't been looking in the right places.

DEAR ABBY: In the first place, when I call my doctor for an appointment, his office girl has to know it all. I realize she must know how much time to save for the appointment. But I have a ten-party line and do you think I want the whole neighborhood knowing my trouble? When I went to his office, the nurse gave me a shot and a bill for $9.50. I never even got to see the doctor. Are nurses doctors now?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: Nurses are not doctors, they only follow the doctor's instructions. Some nurses are more expert at giving shots than doctors because they get more practice. Next time, if you want to see the doctor, speak up in his office. Don't needle him behind his back.

DEAR ABBY: After a seven-year courtship, the girl I love has told me she would like to be "friends." Her reason is that she doesn't think she is in love with me. Abby, I practically supported that girl. I paid a dentist $800 to fix her teeth. (She needed dentures.) I paid I don't know how many bills for her. I got her father out of jail and set her brother up in business. I proved my love for this girl in a thousand ways, and now she offers me her "friendship." Doesn't she owe me marriage? How can I get her to change her mind?

RON
DEAR RON: You can't. And don't try too hard or you might succeed. A fellow who has to get down on his knees and beg a girl to marry him is lucky if he gets turned down. She owes you plenty, but marriage as a "pay off" would be bad for both of you.

DEAR ABBY: With holiday time drawing near, please warn your readers to be careful then buying Christmas cards. Last year I bought fifty pretty, colorful little Christmas cards and mailed them to my friends. I later discovered the verse inside read:

"This little card has come to say
A gift from me is on the way!"

General Fund Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A survey just completed by state Auditor James A. Rhodes on Ohio's general revenue fund operations for the first five months of the current fiscal year shows receipts totaling $323,462,499 and expenditures of $293,027,104. Rhodes said contributing to this $30,435,395 in excess revenues were two major items—a hike of $10 million in tax collections, and an increase of $16.5 million in the transfer of liquor profits to the general revenue fund.

Friday Is Deadline for 1963 Wheat Program Participation

Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee reminded Pickaway County Wheat producers today that Friday is the deadline to sign for the voluntary 1963 wheat stabilization program. Mowery stressed the fact that participation in the wheat program is not automatic and operations will not qualify for the program payments merely by complying with their wheat allotment.

Farm operators must first signify their intention to take part in the 1963 wheat stabilization program by filing an application showing how much acreage they intend to divert into a conservation use. They may divert from 20 to 50 percent of their wheat allotment or base acreage with special diversion provisions for small farms.

By participating in the program, farmers earn diversion payments and — provided they are in compliance with their farm allotment — they also qualify for extra price support payments and for the regular price-support loan or purchase agreements.

GROWERS are cautioned this year to divert the full amount of acreage signed up, since failure to do this would result in loss of eligibility for any kind of payments or price support.

Chairman Mowery urged farm operators not to wait until the last minute to sign up. An early visit to the ASCS county office will save time and help avoid possible confusion during the pre-deadline rush period.

Police Find Note Telling Of Slaying

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Police today said they found a note written by a young father in which he confessed slaying his wife and her parents Tuesday at Kingman, Ariz.

"By the time you read this, I'll either be dead or the police will have taken me," the note said.

The note was signed by Raymond J. Hudgens, 22, who is believed to be the man who telephoned police here that three persons were dead in a cabin near Kingman, along with "a tiny baby which would not have been fed for 24 hours, but should still be alive."

Sheriff's officers from Kingman went to the cabin Tuesday night. In it were the bodies of Grace Mary Hudgens, 20; her father, Myron Young, 67, his wife, Dorothy, 55, and the baby, unharmed. The baby was believed to be Hudgens' 16-month old son.

Police hunted the San Fernando Valley—a suburban area northwest of Los Angeles—for traces of Hudgens.

Ohioan Will Face Shooting Charge

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—William Albert Mance, 47, of Lorain, Ohio, is to be returned to Ohio to face a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

Mance walked into police headquarters here Tuesday and told a desk sergeant he had shot a man in Lorain April 9. The man, George Cunningham, was wounded in the abdomen, but he recovered.

Mance told police the shooting followed an argument in the home of his divorced wife. He said he had been working in Alexandria, Va., since leaving Ohio and was on his way back to Lorain when he surrendered.

Fire Hits Amelia

AMELIA, Ohio (AP)—Firemen from three departments were called in Tuesday to fight a stubborn blaze at the Village Dry Cleaners which caused an estimated $30,000 damage. Two firemen were injured. The fire-fighting was hampered by extreme cold which caused the water in some hoses to freeze.

deadline to sign for the voluntary 1963 wheat stabilization program. Mowery stressed the fact that participation in the wheat program is not automatic and operations will not qualify for the program payments merely by complying with their wheat allotment.

Farm operators must first signify their intention to take part in the 1963 wheat stabilization program by filing an application showing how much acreage they intend to divert into a conservation use. They may divert from 20 to 50 percent of their wheat allotment or base acreage with special diversion provisions for small farms.

By participating in the program, farmers earn diversion payments and — provided they are in compliance with their farm allotment — they also qualify for extra price support payments and for the regular price-support loan or purchase agreements.

GROWERS are cautioned this year to divert the full amount of acreage signed up, since failure to do this would result in loss of eligibility for any kind of payments or price support.

Chairman Mowery urged farm operators not to wait until the last minute to sign up. An early visit to the ASCS county office will save time and help avoid possible confusion during the pre-deadline rush period.

Police Find Note Telling Of Slaying

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Police today said they found a note written by a young father in which he confessed slaying his wife and her parents Tuesday at Kingman, Ariz.

"By the time you read this, I'll either be dead or the police will have taken me," the note said.

The note was signed by Raymond J. Hudgens, 22, who is believed to be the man who telephoned police here that three persons were dead in a cabin near Kingman, along with "a tiny baby which would not have been fed for 24 hours, but should still be alive."

Sheriff's officers from Kingman went to the cabin Tuesday night. In it were the bodies of Grace Mary Hudgens, 20; her father, Myron Young, 67, his wife, Dorothy, 55, and the baby, unharmed. The baby was believed to be Hudgens' 16-month old son.

Police hunted the San Fernando Valley—a suburban area northwest of Los Angeles—for traces of Hudgens.

Ohioan Will Face Shooting Charge

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—William Albert Mance, 47, of Lorain, Ohio, is to be returned to Ohio to face a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

Mance walked into police headquarters here Tuesday and told a desk sergeant he had shot a man in Lorain April 9. The man, George Cunningham, was wounded in the abdomen, but he recovered.

Mance told police the shooting followed an argument in the home of his divorced wife. He said he had been working in Alexandria, Va., since leaving Ohio and was on his way back to Lorain when he surrendered.

Fire Hits Amelia

AMELIA, Ohio (AP)—Firemen from three departments were called in Tuesday to fight a stubborn blaze at the Village Dry Cleaners which caused an estimated $30,000 damage. Two firemen were injured. The fire-fighting was hampered by extreme cold which caused the water in some hoses to freeze.

Bull Is Named Top Rookie in NFL Selection

NEW YORK (AP) — Ronnie Bull, the Chicago Bears' fine running halfback from Baylor, was named Rookie-of-the-Year in the National Football League today by an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Bull, the Bears' No. 1 draft choice a year ago after leading Baylor in running and pass receiving for three straight seasons, started his pro career working on defense. After a succession of injuries to Willie Galimore, Rick Casares, Charley Bivins and Joe Marconi crippled the Bears, Bull moved to offense.

"He hasn't reached his peak yet," said coach George Halas recently in Chicago. "He is going to be a great runner."

Although Bull carried the ball only nine times for 26 yards and did not catch a pass in the Bears' first three games, his figures through last Sunday's 13th game show 370 yards in 103 carries for a 3.6 yard average and 29 passes for 324 yards. He also has returned nine kickoffs for 235 yards.

From the 39 panelists who participated in the rookie balloting, Bull received 17 votes.

Los Angeles' Merlin Olsen, the 6-foot-5, 265-pound tackle from Utah State was a strong second with seven votes.

Brown Is Set To Try His Young Players

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hampered by heavy snow and injuries, the Cleveland Browns plan to juggle their lineups in their season finale Saturday with the San Francisco 49ers on the West Coast.

"We're going to try out a lot of our new kids," coach Paul Brown said Tuesday as he watched his National Football League club work out in knee-deep snow at League Park on the East Side.

"We really have to because we have enough men suffering from bumps and injuries and our newcomers are in the best physical shape."

The rookies Brown mentioned he expected to use in the nationally televised game are Gary Collins, offensive end from Maryland; John Brown, offensive tackle from Syracuse; Jim Shorter, defensive back from Detroit, and Sam Tidmore, a linebacker from Ohio State.

Another new face in the lineup will be Bob Crespi, a second year offensive end from Mississippi, who also handles a spot on the Browns' kickoff team.

Baylor's 42 Leads Lakers Over Royals

NEW YORK (AP)—For Elgin Baylor, the great Los Angeles Laker star, obviously the best thing about being in the Army is getting out.

"It's great to be back playing full time," Baylor said, after he poured in 42 points and led the Lakers to a 124-121 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in a National Basketball Association doubleheader here Tuesday night.

In the second game, the New York Knicks won their fourth straight—for the first time in two seasons—as they led almost all the way in trimming the Boston Celtics 95-87. A crowd of 15,237 attended.

With Wilt Chamberlain pumping in 61 points, the San Francisco Warriors ended their losing string at 11 games with a 136-124 victory over Syracuse.

Baylor was in the Army last season, and available to the Lakers only intermittently.

Now discharged, the ex-Seattle All-American already established as an all-time NBA great, says he thinks he may be "shooting a little better, this year."

Second-Ranked Duke Victor Despite Bad Night by Heyman

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jeff (Pork Chop) Mullins and Jay (Bird) Buckley provided enough ammunition to overcome a bad night by Art Heyman, who was limited to 13 points, as second-ranked Duke rapped Vanderbilt 90-70 Tuesday.

Buckley probably is the key to Duke's fortunes this season. Heyman and Mullins are proven commodities. But the 6-foot-10 junior has to prove he's tough enough to tangle underneath the boards.

Heyman was held to 13 points by the Commodores, but the Pork Chop-Bird combo took up the slack. Mullins wound up with 22 points and Buckley finished with 21. Vandy sophomore Roger Schurig took scoring honors with 30 points.

Only one other top-ten team was in action. Sixth-ranked West Virginia, led by peppery Jim McCormick, outclassed Richmond 78-59 in a Southern Conference game.

In another Southern game, VMI nipped George Washington 74-73. Elsewhere on the conference scene, North Carolina State used a jump shot by John Key with 2 seconds remaining in overtime for a 76-74 decision over Maryland, and Vermont defeated New Hampshire 78-73 in a Yankee Conference clash.

In other top games, Notre Dame sophomores Walt Sahn and Larry Sheffield scored 27 and 24 points, respectively, as the Irish whipped Western Michigan 82-68, sophomore James King sank a foul shot after time ran out in overtime for Oklahoma State's 46-45 triumph over Arkansas and Santa Clara spilled Wichita 72-67.

William & Mary snapped an 18-game losing streak on the road with Roger Bergey's basket providing the winning margin in a 71-69 victory over Virginia. Duquesne won its fourth straight, 68-56 over Georgetown. D. C. Penn State did the same, 62-40 over Colgate and Rutgers snapped Columbia's winning streak at three, 88-68.

Gerry Ward held Yale ace Rick Kaminsky to four points and scored 15 as Boston College nipped the Elis 59-57 and Wake Forest limited Billy Hoy to three points while breezing to a 75-46 triumph over St. Joseph's Pa.

In some of the others, Washington State defeated Gonzaga 70-66, Air Force topped Hardin-Simmons 58-37, Baylor belted Trinity, Tex., 90-70, Villanova crushed Scranton 88-63, Texas A&M thumped Southern Mississippi 87-61, Maine beat Bates 64-57, Boston U. walloped Suffolk 79-58, and Fresno State knocked off San Jose State 57-42.

Tight Scoring Race in NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's fullback, and Lou Michaels, Pittsburgh's fine place kicker, are in a tight race for the National Football League scoring honors going into the final week of the season.

Neither will approach the all-time record of 176 points set by Paul Hornung of Green Bay in 1960. Hornung, also the leader in 1961 with 146 points, dropped out of the race due to a knee injury after a fast start.

Michaels broke the NFL record for field goals in one season when he boosted his total to 24 Sunday by kicking four in the Steelers' 26-17 victory over Philadelphia.

Taylor remains the top ground gainer with 1,318 yards in 249 attempts, according to league statistics released today. He also paces the scorers with 108 points as compared to 101 for runner-up Lou Michaels of Pittsburgh. Jimmy Brown, who led five straight years from 1957 through 1961, is fourth with 861.

The Packers' Bart Starr maintains his lead among the passers, having completed 64 per cent of his tosses, 162 to 253 attempts for 2,233 yards.

Bobby Mitchell of the Washington Redskins ranks as the leading pass receiver with 68 catches for 1,294 yards. Willie Wood of Green Bay has intercepted the most passes, nine for 132 yards returned.

Prize End Signed

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tom Hutchinson, the Cleveland Browns' first choice in the National Football League draft last week, signed a 1963 contract with the club Tuesday.

The 6-foot-1, 189-pound end from Kentucky was a three-time All-Southeastern Conference selection, the only lineman to gain that distinction in the history of the conference.

Hefty Players On North Team

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A bulky squad headed by three players who were top choices in the pro drafts was named today to the North team in the 14th annual Senior Bowl game Jan. 5.

The threesome is composed of end Walt Sweeney of Syracuse and interior linemen Ed Budde of Michigan State and Daryl Sanders of Ohio State.

The 230-pound Sweeney was the No. 1 choice of San Diego of the American Football League.

Budde, a 250-pounder, was No. 1 of both the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League and the Dallas Texans of the AFL. He has signed with Dallas.

Sanders, who is 6-5 and weighs in at 246, was picked first by the NFL's Detroit Lions and has signed with the Lions.

The South squad, headed by All-American center Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama, was announced Saturday.

The Southerners will be coached again by Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts. Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys will be back to tutor the Northerners.

Landry will have as his quarterbacks Jerry Gross of Detroit, who completed 105 of 212 passes during the past season, and Pat McCarthy of Holy Cross, also ranked high on total offense in the nation.

The Yankee line will average 239 pounds and the backfield 194. The Southerners average out at 235 in the forewall and 197 in the backfield.

The game will be televised nationwide by NBC.

One of thoroughbred racing's bargains of 1961 is Valiant Skool. He was bought by T. T. Brittingham III for $3,600 last fall at Keeneland and in the first 10 months of 1962 had won $40,984.

Cincy Shows Confidence in Grid Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Head coach Chuck Studley of the University of Cincinnati football Bearcats has a vote of confidence from his president and athletic director despite the team's dismal 2-8 record.

"Football systems differ under different coaches," UC President Walter Langsam said Tuesday night at the annual football banquet. "Let us wait and see and let us give Coach Studley and his staff ample time to display their real knowledge."

Athletic Director George Smith said that "if given a break or two we could have had a winning season. I would call this a snake-bite season but I believe the snake-bite wounds will be healed next year."

UC had hard luck with injuries through most of the season. Studley's second. In 1961, the Bearcats compiled a 3-7 record.

Two major awards went to junior halfback Royce Starks of St. Clairsville—those of the "most efficient and consistent back" and the "outstanding back."

Senior end Jim Paris of Struthers got the coaches' award as the most efficient and consistent lineman and sophomore Dave Pirog of Bristol, Conn., got the most improved player award.

Hawaii Baseball Team Purchased

HONOLULU (AP)—A group of 40 sportsmen and businessmen Tuesday night purchased the Hawaii Islanders baseball club of the Pacific Coast League from Nick Morgan Jr., team president.

The purchase price was $112,500 cash and $100,000 in preferred stock.

The new owners confirmed the negotiation of a working agreement with the Los Angeles Angels immediately after the purchase.

The Islanders lost $195,000 last season.

Red Sox Active In Trade Mart

Mantilla to Boston For Three Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The new-look Boston Red Sox hierarchy has stepped into the center of baseball's bustling trade mart again and peddled a pair of players who apparently fell into disfavor at Beantown — infielder Pumpsie Green and pitcher Tracy Stallard.

Green, the first Negro to play for the Red Sox, and Stallard, the man on the mound when Roger Maris hit home run No. 61 in 1961, were sent to the New York Mets Tuesday in a 3-for-1 trade that brought utilityman Felix Mantilla to Boston.

The Red Sox also will deliver a third player—a minor leaguer—to the Mets at a later date.

In another transaction Tuesday, the Philadelphia Phillies acquired catcher Earl Averill from the Los Angeles Angels for outfielder Jack Davis. The trades were the ninth and 10th of the inter-league trading period, which ends at midnight Saturday.

When Boston owner Tom Yawkey made Mike Higgins vice president and installed Johnny Peskey as manager he promised, "We are ready to make every intelligent move we can to improve the Red Sox." The Red Sox have been out in the market place ever since.

The trade for Mantilla, who played all infield positions for the Mets except first base and batted .275 in 141 games, was the third of the inter-league session for the Red Sox, who have been the most active team in the dealings between American and National League clubs.

Champion Fight Is Postponed

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan Boxing Commission said today the world bantamweight title bout between champion Eder Jofre of Brazil and Japanese challenger Katsutoshi Aoki has been postponed to April 4.

The 15-round title match was originally scheduled for Jan. 3 at Tokyo's Kuramae Sumo Arena.

A spokesman said Jofre's manager, Abraham Katzenelson, asked for postponement because it was too cold in Tokyo in January.

Tiger Hardwooders Prepare For Two-Game Home Stand

The Circleville High School basketball team will be looking for an initial South Central Ohio League win Friday when the Mill St. Gymnasium is invaded by the Blue Lions of Washington C. H.

The Tigers are 0-1 in the S.C.O. and the Blue Lions have a 1-1 loop slate.

Snow postponed last week's Circleville-Greenfield encounter, while the Washington C. H. Cagers were losing 56-49 to the visiting Hillsboro Indians.

The Tigers' Friday opponents, under new head coach John Powell, field a young team. Only one of the seven hardwood hopefuls vying for starting berths is a senior. He is returning letterman John Thomas, a 5-foot-10 forward, who was the second leading scorer on last year's team.

THE BLUE LIONS finished last in the league last year with a 3-11 league record. Circleville was tied with Greenfield for sixth place with a 4-10 league slate.

On Saturday the Tigers host the Reynoldsburg Raiders in the second half of the weekend two game home stand. It will be the last non-conference battle for Paul Reiss' cagers until the start of the central district class AA tournament.

The Tiger reserves will be going after their third and fourth wins this week end. Don Neff's junior edition of the Circleville High School hardwooders has lost only to a tough Chillicothe aggregation.

In other South Central Ohio league competition pre-season co-favorites Hillsboro and Miami Trace clash at Hillsboro. The

Wilmington, with 31 consecutive league wins to its credit, goes to Greenfield 0-1 in the league, and Pleasant View, 0-1, plays at Franklin Heights, 1-1.

Saturday only Greenfield and Pleasant View are idle, while the other six league schools engage in non-conference tilts.

WASHINGTON C. H. plays at Teays Valley in a game that will be closely watched by Pickaway County cage fans.

Hillsboro goes to Piketon, Wilmington hosts Miamisburg, and Madison South plays at Miami Trace, while Franklin Heights invades Columbus West to round out the weekend schedule.

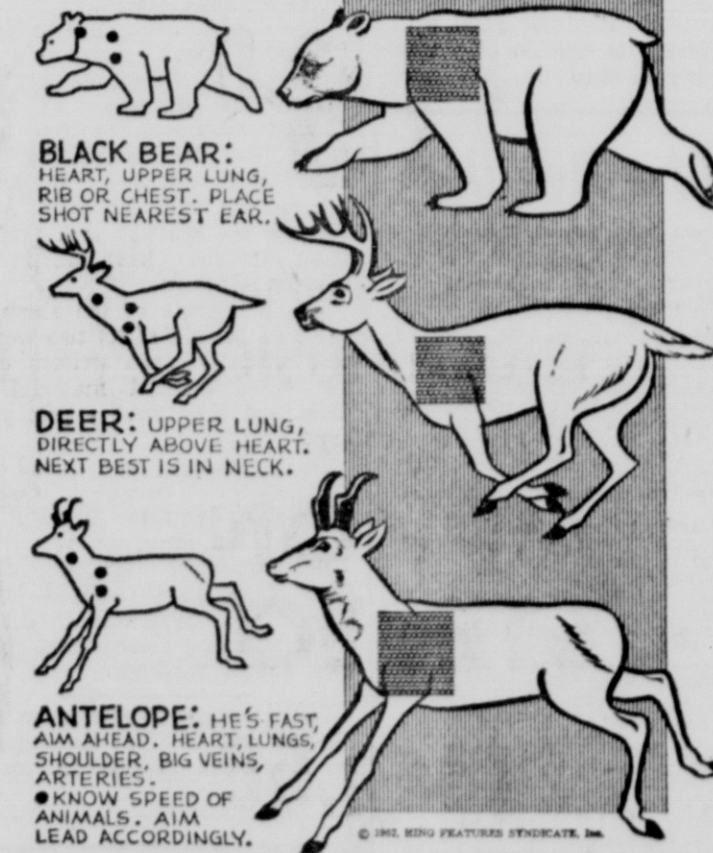

Of the 19 baseball leagues which operated the last two years, 11 showed an overall increase in attendance.

Hawaii Baseball Team Purchased

HONOLULU (AP)—A group of 40 sportsmen and businessmen Tuesday night purchased the Hawaii Islanders baseball club of the Pacific Coast League from Nick Morgan Jr., team president.

The purchase price was $112,500 cash and $100,000 in preferred stock.

The new owners confirmed the negotiation of a working agreement with the Los Angeles Angels immediately after the purchase.

The Islanders lost $195,000 last season.

Red Sox Active In Trade Mart

Mantilla to Boston For Three Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The new look Boston Red Sox hierarchy has stepped into the center of baseball's bustling trade mart again and peddled a pair of players who apparently fell into disfavor at Beantown — infielder Pumpsie Green and pitcher Tracy Stallard.

Green, the first Negro to play for the Red Sox, and Stallard, the man on the mound when Roger Maris hit home run No. 61 in 1961, were sent to the New York Mets Tuesday in a 3-for-1 trade that brought utilityman Felix Mantilla to Boston.

The Red Sox also will deliver a third player—a minor leaguer—to the Mets at a later date.

In another transaction Tuesday, the Philadelphia Phillies acquired catcher Earl Averill from the Los Angeles Angels for outfielder Jack Davis. The trades were the ninth and 10th of the inter-league trading period, which ends at midnight Saturday.

When Boston owner Tom Yawkey made Mike Higgins vice president and installed Johnny Pesky as manager he promised, "we are ready to make every intelligent move we can to improve the Red Sox." The Red Sox have been out in the market place ever since.

The trade for Mantilla, who played all infield positions for the Mets except first base and batted .275 in 141 games, was the third of the inter-league session for the Red Sox, who have been the most active team in the dealings between American and National League clubs.

Champion Fight Is Postponed

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan Boxing Commission said today the world bantamweight title bout between champion Eder Jofre of Brazil and Japanese challenger Katsutoshi Aoki has been postponed to April 4.

The 15-round title match was originally scheduled for Jan. 3 at Tokyo's Kuramae Sumo Arena.

A spokesman said Jofre's manager, Abraham Katzenelson, asked for postponement because it was too cold in Tokyo in January.

Tiger Hardwooders Prepare For Two-Game Home Stand

The Circleville High School basketball team will be looking for an initial South Central Ohio League win Friday when the Mill St. Gymnasium is invaded by the Blue Lions of Washington C. H.

The Tigers are 0-1 in the SCO and the Blue Lions have a 1-1 loop slate.

Snow postponed last week's Circleville-Greenfield encounter, while the Washington C. H. Cagers were losing 56-49 to the visiting Hillsboro Indians.

The Tigers' Friday opponents, under new head coach John Powell, field a young team. Only one of the seven hardwood hopefuls vying for starting berths is a senior. He is returning letterman John Thomas, a 5-foot-10 forward, who was the second leading scorer on last year's team.

THE BLUE LIONS finished last in the league last year with a 3-11 league record. Circleville was tied with Greenfield for sixth place with a 4-10 league slate.

On Saturday the Tigers host the Reynoldsburg Raiders in the second half of the weekend two game home stand. It will be the last non-conference battle for Paul Reiss' cagers until the start of the central district class AA tournament.

The Tiger reserves will be going after their third and fourth wins this week end. Don Neff's junior edition of the Circleville High School hardwooders has lost only to a tough Chillicothe aggregation.

In other South Central Ohio league competition pre-season co-favorites Hillsboro and Miami Trace clash at Hillsboro. The Indians are 2-0 in the league and are tough on their home floor. Trace has lost to Wilmington in their lone league start.

Wilmington, with 31 consecutive league wins to its credit, goes to Greenfield 0-1 in the league, and Pleasant View, 0-1, plays at Franklin Heights, 1-1.

Saturday only Greenfield and Pleasant View are idle, while the other six league schools engage in non-conference tilts.

WASHINGTON C. H. plays at Teays Valley in a game that will be closely watched by Pickaway County cage fans.

Hillsboro goes to Piketon, Wilmington hosts Miamisburg, and Madison South plays at Miami Trace, while Franklin Heights invades Columbus West to round out the weekend schedule.

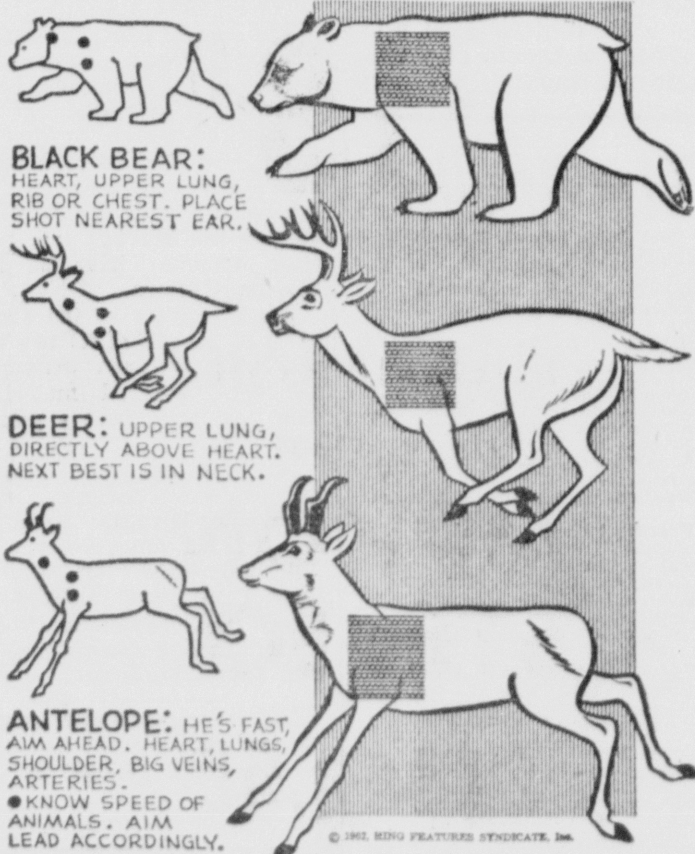

Of the 19 baseball leagues which operated the last two years, 11 showed an overall increase in attendance.

Changes Due As Big Green Preps for OU

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Marshall University, reeling from three straight losses, faces Ohio University in a Mid-American Conference basketball game tonight and the Big Green may have three new faces in the starting lineup.

Coach Jule Rivlin said he is certain that Forrest Newsome, a 6-footer from Wheelwright, Ky., will start in place of Judy Sword, also of Wheelwright.

Rivlin said he may start Walt Smittle and Larry Williams at forwards. Whether Smittle starts depends on the condition of Co-Captain Phil Carter's injured hip. Williams might replace Co-Captain Dick Wildt on the starting unit, Rivlin said.

He also plans to move Mickey Sydenstricker, the team's leading scorer last season, to center. Sydenstricker has been having trouble finding the range.

The Bobcats, like Marshall, have been having trouble. They've lost to Louisville and St. Bonaventure in their only two games.

Two Overtures to World War I Hit in Balkans 50 Years Ago

By M. E. BYRNE
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

The opening ominous notes of the first of two grim overtures to the great drama of World War I sounded just 50 years ago!

However, it is doubtful if there will be a great deal of celebration of this semi-centennial — especially in Turkey — since the map of the Balkans has long ago been greatly changed.

It was in 1912 that four of the Balkan State — Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro — went to war against the Ottoman Empire (Turkey) in Europe.

The excuse was that the state of Macedonia was under Turkish rule and in need of liberation. The Balkan Allies had chosen their assault most opportunely, for the Ottoman Empire had been greatly weakened by the disasters of its 1911 war with Italy.

All Turkey had in Europe to defend its territory there against the quadruple assault was a mere 24 divisions — 12 regular, 12 reserve. Opposed were 11 Bulgarian, 10 Serbian, four Greek divisions and a considerable force of Montenegrin militia—more than 310,000 troops.

The Allies cleverly attacked simultaneously at three points of the Turk frontier, forcing the Turks to wage war on three distinct fronts.

The Bulgars drove toward Adrianople and then toward Constantinople (Istanbul).

The Serbs, with the aid of a Bulgarian division, attacked in the West along the line of the Vardar River, enveloping Scutari and, meanwhile, a Montenegrin force also moved against Scutari.

A thrust from the south was launched by the Greeks with Salonika as their target.

Badly defeating the Turks at Seloliu and Kirk Kilisse on Oct. 24, the Bulgars forced the enemy

The Serbs routed a Turkish force on Oct. 24 in the Vardar Valley. With the foe in full retreat the Serbs sent part of their force to aid the Bulgars before Adrianople.

Meanwhile, the Montenegrans failed to crack the Suti defenses. The Greeks sent a two-pronged attack across the frontier on Oct. 18, one division marching on Yennina in Turkish Epirus and the main force against Salonika, which they occupied Nov. 9, capturing some 29,000 prisoners.

Beaten or stopped cold on all fronts and field, the Ottoman Empire asked for an armistice which was granted Dec. 3 by Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro.

Not the Greeks, however. They were anxious to take Yennina and complete their occupation of Epirus.

On Jan. 23, 1913, a military coup d'etat overthrew the old government in Constantinople. The new military government denounced the armistice and hostilities resumed on Feb. 3, though there now were no Turkish forces in the field except behind the Chatalja Lines and on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

Adrianople fell with its 50,000 defenders to a Bulgar-Serb force on March 26. Yennina had been taken on March 6 with the surrender of another 30,000 Turks. A Serb-Montenegrin force began the assault on Scutari Feb. 7. Quarrelling between the Allies caused a Serb withdrawal and then, surprisingly, Scutari suddenly surrendered April 22.

The war ended for good with the signing in London of a treaty of peace on May 20.

The die has been cast on NBC's "Empire"—Anne Seymour's dying, that is. Sometime early in March the character of Lucia Garret, matriarch of that huge, rich New Mexico spread, will be the heaviest role fine actress Seymour has had in the modern Western.

The producers of the show decided to get rid of its two women characters because writers could not seem to find material for them and they were a plot problem.

Terry Moore, who plays the ranch-owner's daughter, Connie, drew a kinder fate: She will get married and move away.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 18 years ago, character actor Frank McHugh played the role of a priest in a movie called "Going My Way," starring Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald.

Tonight actor Frank McHugh will be back on "Going My Way," only this time it is an ABC television program—and he plays a saucy cracker's assistant.

McHugh, who started in show business in his native McKeesport, Pa. as a youngster, has contributed his talents as a comedy character actor to literally hundreds of plays, silent movies, talkies and, now, television. In the movies he was almost inevitably cast in every part calling for a funny drunk. He played innumerable comedy reporters, too, but perhaps is most often seen now in the late, late television shows playing a cab driver in James Cagney's famous "Roaring Twenties."

McHugh takes the long philosophical view of show business, suffering with a casual shrug what he calls, "the actor's malady."

He says, "When you've finished one job, you always believe that you'll never work again. But somehow, you do."

He does feel strongly that television misuses the word "star"—to him it is a performer of proven ability whose name (placed above the title of the vehicle) brings crowds to the box-office.

Changes Due As Big Green Preps for OU

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Marshall University, reeling from three straight losses, faces Ohio University in a Mid-American Conference basketball game tonight and the Big Green may have three new faces in the starting lineup.

Coach Jule Rivlin said he is certain that Forrest Newsome, a 6-footer from Wheelwright, Ky., will start in place of Judy Sword, also of Wheelwright.

Rivlin said he may start Walt Smittle and Larry Williams at forwards. Whether Smittle starts depends on the condition of Co-Captain Phil Carter's injured hip. Williams might replace Co-Captain Dick Wildt on the starting unit, Rivlin said.

He also plans to move Mickey Sydenstricker, the team's leading scorer last season, to center. Sydenstricker has been having trouble finding the range.

The Bobcats, like Marshall, have been having trouble. They've lost to Louisville and St. Bonaventure in their only two games.

Two Overtures to World War I Hit in Balkans 50 Years Ago

By M. E. BYRNE
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

The opening ominous notes of the first of two grim overtures to the great drama of World War I sounded just 50 years ago!

However, it is doubtful if there will be a great deal of celebration of this semi-centennial — especially in Turkey — since the map of the Balkans has long ago been greatly changed.

It was in 1912 that four of the Balkan State — Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro — went to war against the Ottoman Empire (Turkey) in Europe.

The excuse was that the state of Macedonia was under Turkish rule and in need of liberation. The Balkan Allies had chosen their assault most opportunely, for the Ottoman Empire had been greatly weakened by the disasters of its 1911 war with Italy.

All Turkey had in Europe to defend its territory there against the quadruple assault was a mere 24 divisions — 12 regular, 12 reserve. Opposed were 11 Bulgarian, 10 Serbian, four Greek divisions and a considerable force of Montenegrin militia—more than 310,000 troops.

The Allies cleverly attacked simultaneously at three points of the Turk frontier, forcing the Turks to wage war on three distinct fronts.

The Bulgars drove toward Adrianople and then toward Constantinople (Istanbul).

The Serbs, with the aid of a Bulgarian division, attacked in the West along the line of the Vardar River, enveloping Scutari and, meanwhile, a Montenegrin force also moved against Scutari.

A thrust from the south was launched by the Greeks with Salonika at their target.

Badly defeating the Turks at Scutari and Kirk Kilisse on Oct. 24, the Bulgars forced the enemy to fall back to the Chatalja Lines defending Constantinople. Meanwhile, the Bulgarian also invested Adrianople.

The Serbs routed a Turkish force on Oct. 24 in the Vardar Valley. With the foe in full retreat the Serbs sent part of their force to aid the Bulgars before Adrianople.

Meanwhile, the Montenegrins failed to crack the Suti defenses. The Greeks sent a two-pronged attack across the frontier on Oct. 18, one division marching on Yannina in Turkish Epirus and the main force against Salonika, which they occupied Nov. 9, capturing some 29,000 prisoners.

Beaten or stopped cold on all fronts and field, the Ottoman Empire asked for an armistice which was granted Dec. 3 by Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro.

Not the Greeks, however. They were anxious to take Yannina and complete their occupation of Epirus.

On Jan. 23, 1913, a military coup d'etat overthrew the old government in Constantinople. The new military government denounced the armistice and hostilities resumed on Feb. 3, though there now were no Turkish forces in the field except behind the Chatalja Lines and on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

Adrianople fell with its 50,000 defenders to a Bulgarian-Serb force on March 26. Yannina had been taken on March 6 with the surrender of another 30,000 Turks. A Serb-Montenegrin force began the assault on Scutari Feb. 7. Quarrelling between the Allies caused a Serb withdrawal and then, surprisingly, Scutari suddenly surrendered April 22.

The war ended for good with the signing in London of a treaty of peace on May 20.

The die had been cast on NBC's "Empire"—Anne Seymour's dying, that is. Sometime early in March the character of Lucia Garret, matriarch of that huge, rich New Mexico spread, will sicken and pass away. Ironically, the episode with the death scene will be the heaviest role fine actress Seymour has had in the modern Western.

The producers of the show decided to get rid of its two women characters because writers could not seem to find material for them and they were a plot problem.

Terry Moore, who plays the ranch-owner's daughter, Connie, drew a kinder fate: She will get married and move away.

Recommended tonight: "Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11 (EST) — "Big Day for a Scrambler," drama about an aging professional golfer with James Whitmore.

Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers had a great day against the Minnesota Vikings. He scored 28 points.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 18 years ago, character actor Frank McHugh played the role of a priest in a movie called "Going My Way," starring Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald.

Tonight actor Frank McHugh will be back on "Going My Way," only this time it is an ABC television program—and he plays a saucy cracker's assistant.

McHugh, who started in show business in his native McKeesport, Pa. as a youngster, has contributed his talents as a comedy character actor to literally hundreds of plays, silent movies, talkies and, now, television. In the movies he was almost inevitably cast in every part calling for a funny drunk. He played innumerable comedy reporters, too, but perhaps is most often seen now in the late, late television shows playing a cab driver in James Cagney's famous "Roaring Twenties."

McHugh takes the long philosophical view of show business, suffering with a casual shrug what he calls, "the actor's malady."

He says, "When you've finished one job, you always believe that you'll never work again. But somehow, you do."

He does feel strongly that television misuses the word "star"—to him it is a performer of proven ability whose name (placed above the title of the vehicle) brings crowds to the box-office.

"I've never been a star," he remarked. "But after all, when I entered the theater, most of us didn't want to be. We just wanted to be good actors."

The die has been cast on NBC's "Empire"—Anne Seymour's dying, that is. Sometime early in March the character of Lucia Garret, matriarch of that huge, rich New Mexico spread, will sicken and pass away. Ironically, the episode with the death scene will be the heaviest role fine actress Seymour has had in the modern Western.

The producers of the show decided to get rid of its two women characters because writers could not seem to find material for them and they were a plot problem.

Ohio Race Calendar To Have Only Few Changes in 1963

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Only a few changes will be made in Ohio's thoroughbred and harness horse racing calendar for 1963 under schedules tentatively approved by the State Racing Commission.

The commission Tuesday considered applications for 352 thoroughbred racing dates and 350 nights for harness racing.

One change was made—tentative approval was given for Painesville Raceway to operate Aug. 16-Oct. 7 at Northfield Park. The request was for Aug. 16-Oct. 14 with seven nights dark, but the track is to be dark only Sept. 19—Little Brown Jug day at Delaware, —instead.

The schedule:
Northeast Ohio Thoroughbred
Ascot Park—April 4-May 25 (44 days, dark on Good Friday, April 12)

ThistleDown — May 27-July 16 (44 days)

Randall Park—July 19-Sept. 7 (44 days)

Cranwood Park (at ThistleDown) — Sept. 9 - Oct. 29 (44 days)

Northeast Ohio Harness
Northfield Park—May 3-June 22 (44 nights)

Grandview at Northfield Park — June 25-Aug. 14 (44 nights).

Painesville Raceway at Northfield Park—Aug. 16-Oct. 7 (44 nights with Sept. 19 dark for the Little Brown Jug)

Columbus Area Thoroughbred
Beulah Park—April 27-May 25 (25 days) and Sept. 7 - Sept. 28 (19).

Columbus Area Harness
Scioto Downs—May 31-July 20 (44 nights)

Mid-America Racing Association at Scioto Downs—July 22-Sept. 7 (42 nights)

Cincinnati Area Thoroughbred
River Downs—May 24 - July 13 (44 days)

Cincinnati Area Harness
Lebanon Raceway—May 3-June 1 (26 nights) and Sept. 14-Oct. 5 (18 nights with Sept. 19 dark for the Little Brown Jug)

Hamilton Raceway — June 7-July 27 (44 nights)

Toledo Area Thoroughbred
Toledo Maumee Raceways at Raceway Park—April 1-May 4 (29 days, dark on Good Friday, April 12) and Oct. 15-31 (15 days).

Toledo Area Harness
Raceway Park—June 14-Aug. 3 (44 nights).

Three Teams In Ohio Loop Rolling Along

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More and more, it appears the only Ohio Conference basketball teams that are going to stop any of the OC "Big Three" are each other.

Preseason favorites Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan and Akron rolled along unbeaten in league play with convincing triumphs away from home Tuesday night. Wittenberg beat Kenyon 77-55, Wesleyan dumped Mount Union 83-61 and Akron smacked Heidelberg 73-61.

Wittenberg and Akron each have won four games now, all in the conference, while Ohio Wesleyan is 3-0 in the OC since losing its lidlifter to major power Dayton.

The regular season title probably hinges on the Big Three's round robin: OWU at Wittenberg Jan. 12, OWU at Akron Jan. 19 and Wittenberg at Akron Jan. 29.

All other 12 teams in the circuit have slim hopes at best. Still trying, however, are Hiram (3-1 in the OC) which whipped Wooster 75-64, and Muskingum (1-1), which defeated Oberlin 51-42 in other conference games Tuesday night.

Capital stepped outside the loop and beat Wilmington 82-72 for the Quakers' first loss in four starts.

In an independent thriller, undefeated Gannon of Erie, Pa., barely dodged an upset at Steubenville, nipping the Barons in double overtime 76-75. The Western Reserve at Thiel game in the Presidents' Conference was postponed to tonight, and the Slippery Rock at Fenn tilt was canceled permanently because of the Northeast Ohio-Northwest Pennsylvania snows.

Fall from Horse Injures Hartack

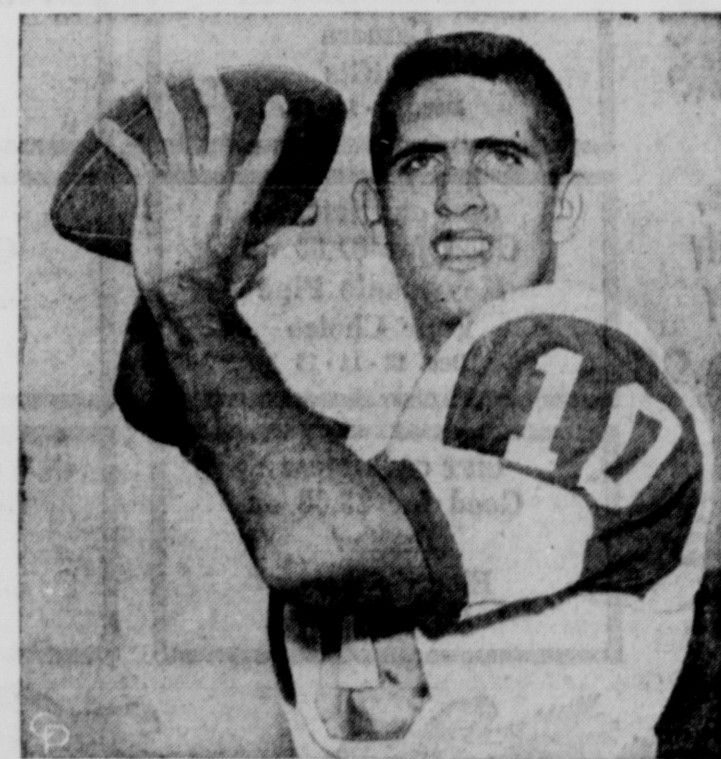

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—One of the country's leading jockeys, Bill Hartack, spent the night in a hospital after falling from a horse at Tropical Park.

Doctors said he suffered only bruises and shock and planned to release him today.

There was no word on when he would ride again.

Hartack's mount, Looking Ahead, apparently shied away from a reflection on the track. Running far back of the pack, the horse veered to the outside as he approached the stretch turn.

The 29-year-old Miami Springs jockey fell to the inside. He landed feet first, tumbled over, tried to get up and fell back on the ground.

GOES AGAINST HUSKERS—George Mira, the passing star of the Miami U. Hurricanes, will try his aerial magic against Nebraska in the Gotham Bowl game in New York December 15. Mira completed 122 of 260 passes for 1,572 yards and 10 touchdowns this season and piled up a total of 1,732 yards with his rushing and passing. (Central Press)

SHOOTING TIPS... From the Experts

Ohio Race Calendar To Have Only Few Changes in 1963

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Only a few changes will be made in Ohio's thoroughbred and harness horse racing calendar for 1963 under schedules tentatively approved by the State Racing Commission.

The commission Tuesday considered applications for 352 thoroughbred racing dates and 350 nights for harness racing.

One change was made—tentative approval was given for Painesville Raceway to operate Aug. 16-Oct. 7 at Northfield Park. The request was for Aug. 16-Oct. 14 with seven nights dark, but the track is to be dark only Sept. 19—Little Brown Jug day at Delaware, —instead.

The schedule:

Northeast Ohio Thoroughbred
Ascot Park—April 4-May 25 (44 days, dark on Good Friday, April 12)

ThistleDown — May 27-July 16 (44 days)
Randall Park—July 19-Sept. 7 (44 days)

Cranwood Park (at ThistleDown) — Sept. 9 - Oct. 29 (44 days)

Northeast Ohio Harness
Northfield Park—May 3-June 22 (44 nights)

Grandview at Northfield Park—June 25-Aug. 14 (44 nights).
Painesville Raceway at Northfield Park—Aug. 16-Oct. 7 (44 nights with Sept. 19 dark for the Little Brown Jug)

Columbus Area Thoroughbred
Beulah Park—April 27-May 25 (25 days) and Sept. 7 - Sept. 28 (19).

Columbus Area Harness
Scioto Downs—May 31-July 20 (44 nights)

Mid-America Racing Association at Scioto Downs—July 22-Sept. 7 (42 nights)

Cincinnati Area Thoroughbred
River Downs—May 24 - July 13 (44 days)

River Downs— May 24-July 13 (44 days)

Cincinnati Turf Club at River Downs—July 15-Sept. 3 (44 days)

Cincinnati Area Harness
Lebanon Raceway—May 3-June 1 (26 nights) and Sept. 14-Oct. 5 (18 nights with Sept. 19 dark for the Little Brown Jug)

Hamilton Raceway — June 7-July 27 (44 nights)

Toledo Area Thoroughbred
Toledo Maumee Raceways at Raceway Park—April 1-May 4 (29 days, dark on Good Friday, April 12) and Oct. 15-31 (15 days).

Toledo Area Harness
Raceway Park—June 14-Aug. 3 (44 nights).

Three Teams In Ohio Loop Rolling Along

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More and more, it appears the only Ohio Conference basketball teams that are going to stop any of the OC "Big Three" are each other.

Preseason favorites Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan and Akron rolled along unbeaten in league play with convincing triumphs away from home Tuesday night. Wittenberg beat Kenyon 77-55, Wesleyan dumped Mount Union 83-61 and Akron smacked Heidelberg 73-61.

Wittenberg and Akron each have won four games now, all in the conference, while Ohio Wesleyan is 3-0 in the OC since losing its liddit to major power Dayton.

The regular season title probably hinges on the Big Three's round robin: OWU at Wittenberg Jan. 12, OWU at Akron Jan. 19, and Wittenberg at Akron Jan. 29.

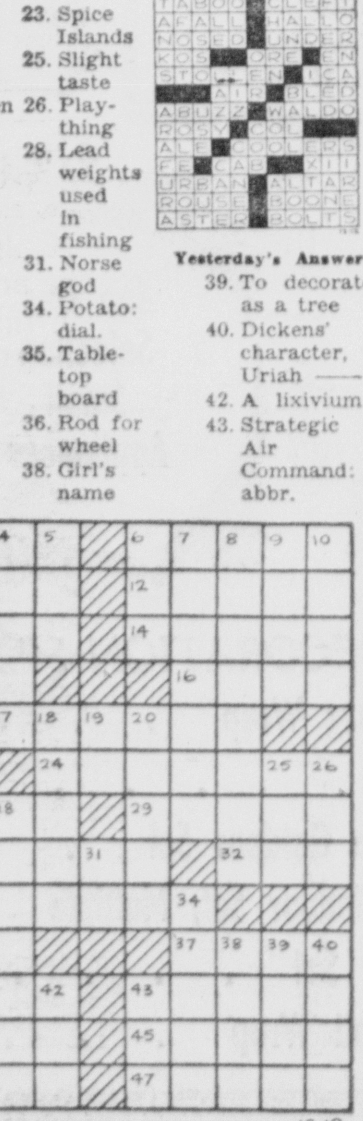

All other 12 teams in the circuit have slim hopes at best. Still trying, however, are Hiram (3-1 in the OC) which whipped Wooster 75-64, and Muskingum (1-1), which defeated Oberlin 51-42 in other conference games Tuesday night.

Capital stepped outside the loop and beat Wilmington 82-72 for the Quakers' first loss in four starts.

In an independent thriller, undefeated Gannon of Erie, Pa., barely dodged an upset at Steubenville, nipping the Barons in double overtime 76-75. The Western Reserve at Thiel game in the Presidents' Conference was postponed to tonight, and the Slippery Rock at Fenn tilt was canceled permanently because of the Northeast Ohio-Northwest Pennsylvania snows.

U.S. Estimates 2-3000 Red Troops Have Departed Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sources estimated today that between 2,000 and 3,000 Soviet troops have left Cuba during the past few weeks.

This withdrawal leaves in Cuba the bulk of Soviet military personnel sent there for missile and other activities.

Estimates on the number still there range from 9,000 to 15,000. The estimates on the withdrawals also range widely because of difficulty in figuring how many men may be aboard outbound ships.

U.S. officials view the withdrawal as moving at a disappointingly slow pace.

This continuing Soviet military presence in Cuba has been one of the factors keeping the U.S.-Soviet dispute lingering on after the removal of Soviet missiles and bombers.

Premier Khrushchev has written President Kennedy that Soviet units associated with the offensive weapons will be withdrawn in due course.

But this left a lot to be pinned down. Among other things, it is not known here whether the Kremlin considered the short-range anti-aircraft missiles in Cuba to be protection for the longer range offensive weapons—and therefore now intends to withdraw them.

Originally, the administration expressed the view that the Soviet military personnel entering Cuba were troops.

Kennedy said on Aug. 28 that "we have no evidence of troops" in Cuba, and on Sept. 13, at his last news conference before the crisis. He was still referring to technicians.

The Washington assessment changed fast with the discovery of the offensive weapons in Cuba. The Russians themselves were found to be setting up the missile sites, and presumably they would man the missiles.

Some reports indicate that the personnel originally sent to Cuba as rocket experts have been reformed into regular army units now that their offensive weapons have been withdrawn.

Some officials feel that there was nothing surprising about this—that it's a routine military procedure for personnel under such circumstances and does not indicate the missilemen will be kept in Cuba as ground combat troops.

'Purple Line' Is Proposed

Direct Phone System Could Nip Blunders

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed today the installation of a direct telephone connecting President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev as part of a detailed system for preventing war by miscalculation or accident.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean urged the 17-nation disarmament conference to give careful consideration to ways of keeping the world from blundering into war.

He introduced a six-point program for building up confidence between nations and insuring them against surprise attack or blows delivered by accident.

This whole field, Dean said, "offers opportunities for early agreement which should not be passed by."

He did not mention the recent Cuban crisis, but the proposals which he advanced would reduce the chance of a repetition of such a threat to peace.

The American document contained these major points:

1—The nations would give advance notice of major military movements to allay any fears of an aggression.

2—Installation of permanent observation posts at railway junctions, ports, key highway intersections and large airfields plus observation by aircraft, mobile ground teams or overlapping radar systems to guard against sneak mobilization.

3—Exchange of military missions by the major powers as a confidence-building measure.

4—Communications links between major capitals to prevent war by miscalculation. A hot telephone between Washington and Moscow—or "purple line" as it is sometimes called—would fall in this category.

5—Studies of the ways in which modern weapons themselves might tend to touch off a war.

6—The various countries would make public the steps they had taken individually to prevent war by accident.

Dean stressed that all the proposals were subject to informal discussions and study in detail. He proposed that technical groups be established to do some of this work.

Decision on Skybolt Strains British-American Alliance

LONDON (AP) — The British-American alliance was put to one of its heaviest strains today by tentative plans of the U.S. Defense Department to scrap the Skybolt missile.

Britain has made plain that junking of the projected missile could lead to a reappraisal of British defense commitments, including the use of Holy Loch in Scotland for a U.S. Polaris submarine base, British informants said.

Reports from the conference Tuesday between U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft said a tough, bunt argument took place. The Daily Sketch described the meeting as one of the stormiest between ministers of the two governments.

"Mr. McNamara is under no illusions as to the British reaction to any cancellation of Skybolt," a British defense spokesman said.

The Laborite Daily Herald said Thorneycroft warned that abandoning the missile would threaten the British-American alliance as well as Britain's entire defense policy.

McNamara and Thorneycroft adjourned their conference to attend the NATO ministerial meeting in Paris opening Thursday.

President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan presumably will have to make the final decision about the Skybolt at their meeting in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20.

The Skybolt is an air-to-ground missile that has cost $650 million and had an unbroken string of failures in its first five test firings. It is designed for firing by a bomber in the air 1,000 miles from its target.

The Skybolt is the missile on which Britain counted to deliver British nuclear warheads from the mid-1960s on. Its abandonment would leave Britain's subsonic bombers without a nuclear weapon to deliver from a distance safe from supersonic enemy fighters.

Britain abandoned her own development of a Blue Streak missile because of the cost and agreed nearly three years ago to buy the Skybolt if the United States developed it. The agreement between Macmillan and Dwight D. Eisenhower, then president, included location of the Polaris base at Holy Loch.

Mt. Vernon Student High Among Grads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The son of a Mount Vernon doctor has achieved the highest scholastic record among seniors who will be graduated from Ohio State University Friday.

Gary Grove Koch, son of Dr. and Mrs. Justin L. Koch, of Mount Vernon, a mathematics student, will receive the bachelor of science degree "summa cum laude" and with high distinction in mathematics.

He attained a 3.985 (4.00 equals "A") point - hour ratio for his undergraduate work at Ohio State, highest among the 15 honor graduates for the quarter.

Two other seniors will be graduated "summa cum laude" in the ceremonies at St. John Arena on the campus. They are Patricia McElwee Roth of Madison, Lake County, bachelor of science in education; and Suzanne Donohoe of Route 4, Zanesville.

Other seniors being graduated "cum laude" include:

Jowanda Wilson, Washington Court House and Jerry R. Lucas, Middletown.

At left is a 30-foot parabolic antenna which is the Project Relay terminal. "Relay" has the capacity of transmitting one-way wide band communications (television, 300 one-way voice channels or high speed data) or two-way narrow band (12 two-way telephone conversations, teletype, photo facsimile, data). The Relay satellite includes South America as well as Europe, which Telstar did not. Sometime next year Japan is expected to be brought into the apparatus. Relay is set to orbit at from 800 to 4,500 miles out in space.

Packed House Expected Again In Hearing on Pacifist Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Militant women were expected to pack the House caucus room again today at a hearing on Women Strike for Peace, a pacifist group.

The opening session Tuesday was repeatedly interrupted by applause as some witnesses voiced emotional defiance of the House subcommittee on Un-American Activities and an ex-FBI man shouted a demand for a halt in the proceedings. He was escorted out by a policeman.

The hearings have drawn protests from liberal groups and N.Y., who said they were an example of "misuse and abuse of legislative power."

Two of the women witnesses cited the Fifth Amendment—a constitutional protection against possible self-incrimination—in refusing to answer questions, including whether they are or had been Communists.

Another woman, Mrs. Lyla

Hoffman of Great Neck, N.Y., argued that the committee's questions were not relevant to her activities in organizing Women Strike for Peace in her community. She conceded she had once been a Communist but not for the past five years. She cited the First Amendment provisions on freedom of association rather than the Fifth Amendment.

More New York area women are expected to be called during the three days of hearings. Another prospective witness is Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, Washington leader of the group, who has organized several picket lines at the White House protesting nuclear testing.

The ex-FBI man was Jack Levine, who gained considerable notice recently by writing a magazine article severely criticizing FBI methods. He had been an FBI agent for a brief period.

Originally, the administration expressed the view that the Soviet military personnel entering Cuba no troops.

Kennedy said on Aug. 28 that "we have no evidence of troops" in Cuba, and on Sept. 13, at his last news conference before the crisis. He was still referring to technicians.

The Washington assessment changed fast with the discovery of the offensive weapons in Cuba. The Russians themselves were found to be setting up the missile sites, and presumably they would man the missiles.

Some reports indicate that the personnel originally sent to Cuba as rocket experts have been reformed into regular army units now that their offensive weapons have been withdrawn.

Some officials feel that there was nothing surprising about this—that it's a routine military procedure for personnel under such circumstances and does not indicate the missilemen will be kept in Cuba as ground combat troops.

'Purple Line' Is Proposed

Direct Phone System Could Nip Blunders

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed today the installation of a direct telephone connecting President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev as part of a detailed system for preventing war by miscalculation or accident.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean urged the 17-nation disarmament conference to give careful consideration to ways of keeping the world from blundering into war.

He introduced a six-point program for building up confidence between nations and insuring them against surprise attack or blows delivered by accident.

This whole field, Dean said, "offers opportunities for early agreement which should not be passed by."

He did not mention the recent Cuban crisis, but the proposals which he advanced would reduce the chance of a repetition of such a threat to peace.

The American document contained these major points:

1—The nations would give advance notice of major military movements to allay any fears of an aggression.

2—Installation of permanent observation posts at railway junctions, ports, key highway intersections and large airfields plus observation by aircraft, mobile ground teams or overlapping radar systems to guard against sneak mobilization.

3—Exchange of military missions by the major powers as a confidence-building measure.

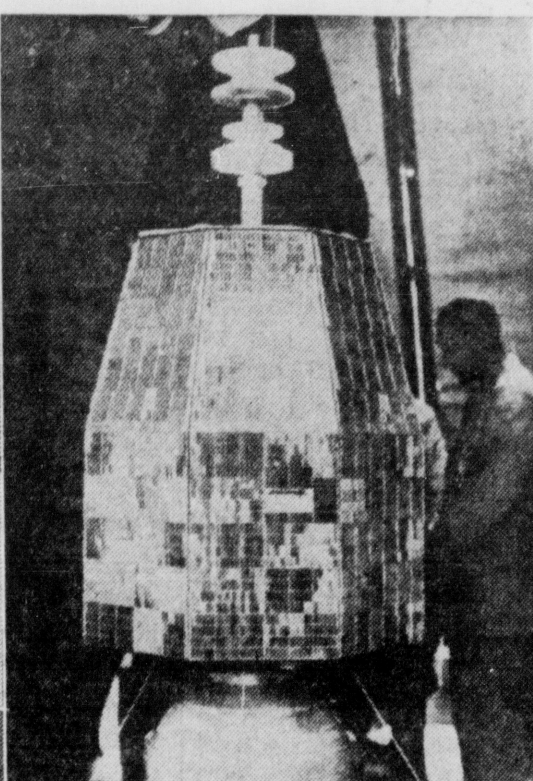

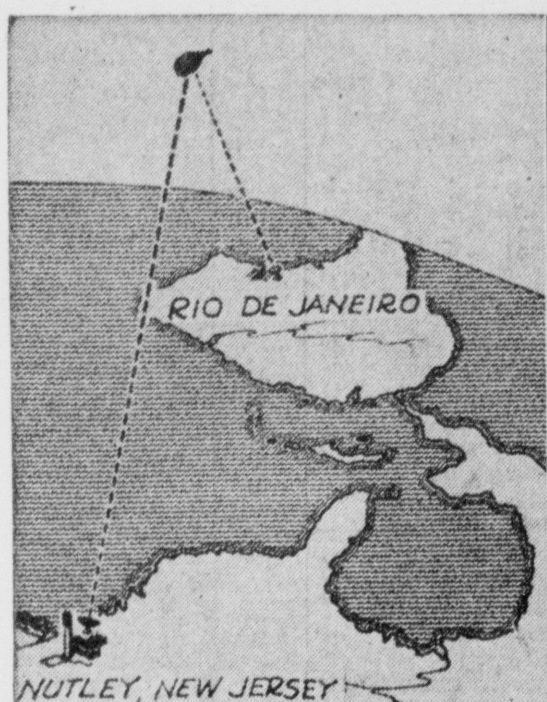

4—Communications links between major capitals to prevent war by miscalculation. A hot telephone between Washington and Moscow—or "purple line" as it is sometimes called—would fall in this category.

5—Studies of the ways in which modern weapons themselves might tend to touch off a war.

6—The various countries would make public the steps they had taken individually to prevent war by accident.

Dean stressed that all the proposals were subject to informal discussions and study to fill in details. He proposed that technical groups be established to do some of this work.

"RELAY"—Map illustrates the job of the new communications satellite Relay, which replaces the dead Telstar. The satellite is shown ready for launch by Delta at Cape Canaveral, Fla. At left is a 30-foot parabolic antenna which is the Project Relay terminal. "Relay" has the capacity of transmitting one-way wide band communications (television, 300 one-way voice channels or high speed data) or two-way narrow band (12 two-way telephone conversations, teletype, photo facsimile, data). The Relay satellite includes South America as well as Europe, which Telstar did not. Sometime next year Japan is expected to be brought into the apparatus. Relay is set to orbit at from 800 to 4,500 miles out in space.

Packed House Expected Again In Hearing on Pacifist Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Militant women were expected to pack the House caucus room again today at a hearing on Women Strike for Peace, a pacifist group.

The opening session Tuesday was repeatedly interrupted by applause as some witnesses voiced emotional defiance of the House subcommittee on Un-American Activities and an ex-FBI man shouted a demand for a halt in the proceedings. He was escorted out by a policeman.

The hearings have drawn protests from liberal groups and N.Y., who said they were an example of "misuse and abuse of legislative power."

Two of the women witnesses cited the Fifth Amendment—a constitutional protection against possible self-incrimination—in refusing to answer questions, including whether they are or had been Communists.

Another woman, Mrs. Lyla

Hoffman of Great Neck, N.Y., argued that the committee's questions were not relevant to her activities in organizing Women Strike for Peace in her community. She conceded she had once been a Communist but not for the past five years. She cited the First Amendment provisions on freedom of association rather than the Fifth Amendment.

More New York area women are expected to be called during the three days of hearings. Another prospective witness is Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, Washington leader of the group, who has organized several picket lines at the White House protesting nuclear testing.

The ex-FBI man was Jack Levine, who gained considerable notice recently by writing a magazine article severely criticizing FBI methods. He had been an FBI agent for a brief period.

Decision on Skybolt Strains British-American Alliance

LONDON (AP) — The British-American alliance was put to one of its heaviest strains today by tentative plans of the U.S. Defense Department to scrap the Skybolt missile.

Britain has made plain that junking of the projected missile could lead to a reappraisal of British defense commitments, including the use of Holy Loch in Scotland for a U.S. Polaris submarine base, British informants said.

Reports from the conference Tuesday between U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft said a tough, but argument took place. The Daily Sketch described the meeting as one of the stormiest between ministers of the two governments.

"Mr. McNamara is under no illusions as to the British reaction to any cancellation of Skybolt," a British defense spokesman said.

The Laborite Daily Herald said Thorneycroft warned that abandoning the missile would threaten the British-American alliance as well as Britain's entire defense policy.

McNamara and Thorneycroft adjourned their conference to attend the NATO ministerial meeting in Paris opening Thursday.

President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan presumably

will have to make the final decision about the Skybolt at their meeting in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20.

The Skybolt is an air-to-ground missile that has cost $650 million and had an unbroken string of failures in its first five test firings. It is designed for firing by a bomber in the air 1,000 miles from its target.

The Skybolt is the missile on which Britain counted to deliver British nuclear warheads from the mid-1960s on. Its abandonment would leave Britain's subsonic bombers without a nuclear weapon to deliver from a distance safe from supersonic enemy fighters.

Britain abandoned her own development of a Blue Streak missile because of the cost and agreed nearly three years ago to buy the Skybolt if the United States developed it. The agreement between Macmillan and Dwight D. Eisenhower, then president, included location of the Polaris base at Holy Loch.

Mt. Vernon Student High Among Grads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The son of a Mount Vernon doctor has achieved the highest scholastic record among seniors who will be graduated from Ohio State University Friday.

Gary Grove Koch, son of Dr. and Mrs. Justin L. Koch, of Mount Vernon, a mathematics student, will receive the bachelor of science degree "summa cum laude and with high distinction in mathematics."

He attained a 3.985 (4.00 equals "A") point - hour ratio for his undergraduate work at Ohio State, highest among the 15 honor graduates for the quarter.

Two other seniors will be graduated "summa cum laude" in the ceremonies at St. John Arena on the campus. They are Patricia McElwee Roth of Madison, Lake County, bachelor of science in education; and Suzanne Donohoe of Route 4, Zanesville.

Other seniors being graduated "cum laude" include:

Jowanda Wilson, Washington Court House and Jerry R. Lucas, Middletown.
